An Introduction to Television Studies Jonathan Bignell, Faye Woods, 2022-12-21 This comprehensive textbook, now substantially updated for its fourth edition, provides students with a framework for understanding the key concepts and main approaches to Television Studies, including audiences, representation, industry, and global television, as well as the analytical study of individual programmes. This new edition reflects the significant changes the television industry is undergoing in the streaming era, with an explosion of new content and providers, whilst also identifying how many existing practices have endured. The book includes a glossary of key terms, with each chapter suggesting further reading. New and updated material includes: Chapters on style and form, narrative, industry, and representation and identity; Case studies on Bon Appétit, YouTube channel Insecure, British youth television, ABC and Disney, fixed rig, observational documentary, streaming platforms, use of data to shape audience experience, Chewing Gum, Korean drama, and The Marvelous Mrs Maisel; Sections on medical drama, YouTube creators Skam, and scripted format sales; the global spread of streaming platforms; prestige TV and period drama. With individual chapters addressing television style and form, narrative, histories, industries, genres, and formats, realities, production, audiences, representation, and identity, and quality, this book is essential reading for both students and scholars of Television Studies.

Digital Media and Innovation Richard A. Gershon, 2024-03-26 This fully updated second edition explores the importance of innovation and innovative thinking for the long-term success of today's leading media, telecommunications, and information technology companies. The book takes an in-depth look at how smart creative companies have transformed today's digital economy by introducing unique and highly differentiated products and services. This edition provides a detailed overview of intelligent networks and analyzes disruptive business models and processes from companies involved in social media, artificial intelligence, the metaverse, smart cities, and robotics among other emerging areas. From Apple to Zoom, this book considers some of the key people, companies, and strategies that have transformed the communication industries. Exploring the power of good ideas, this book goes inside the creative edge and looks at what makes such companies successful over time. Digital Media and Innovation is suited to advanced undergraduate and graduate courses in media management, media industries, communication technology, and business management and innovation, and provides up-to-date research for media and business professionals.

Watching TV Harry Castleman, Walter J. Podrazik, 2024-12-16 Castleman and Podrazik present a season-by-season narrative that encompasses the eras of American television from the beginning in broadcast through cable and now streaming They deftly navigate the dizzying array of contemporary choices so that no matter where you start on the media timeline Watching TV provides the context and background to this multi billion dollar enterprise Drawing on decades of research the authors weave together personalities popular shows corporate strategies historical events and changing technologies enhancing the main commentary with additional elements that include fall prime time schedule grids for every season date box timelines highlighted key text and selected photos Full of facts firsts insights and exploits from now back to the earliest days Watching TV is the standard chronology of American television and reading it is akin to channel surfing through history The fourth edition updates the story into the 2020s and looks ahead to the next waves of change This new edition is the first to also be available in a digital format
