Challenging Academia Heather Piper, Else-Marie Buch Leander, 2021-09-01 Some social issues and practices have become dangerous areas for academics to research and write about Academic freedom is increasingly constrained not just by long established normal factors territoriality power differentials competition protectionism but also by the increased significance of social media and the rise of identity politics and activists who treat work which challenges their world view as abusive hate speech So extreme are these pressures that some institutions and even statutory bodies now adopt policies and practices which contravene relevant regulations and laws This book seeks to draw attention to the limiting and damaging effects of academic gagging The book drawn from a special edition of Societies offers an eclectic series of international articles which may annoy some people The book challenges taken for granted mainstream assumptions and practices in a number of areas including gender mainstreaming social work education child sexual abuse the ethnic disaggregation of population groups fatherhood and masculinity the erosion of democratic legitimacy the trap of victimhood and vulnerability employment practices in universities and the challenges presented by the widespread and deliberate suppression of scholarship and research In an analytic postscript Laurent Dubreuil discusses the nature of identity politics and the manner in which its effects can be identified across the many topics covered in these challenging articles Best Catholic

Advances and challenges in pain measurement - volume I Kenneth Craig, Kai Karos, Loren Martin, 2022-12-16

Advances and Challenges in Pain Measurement Kenneth Craig, Loren Martin, Kai Karos, 2023-08-18 Lord Kelvin William Thompson To measure is to know If you cannot measure it you cannot improve it Pain has proven elusive to definitive measurement in research and clinical settings While the experience is familiar to virtually everyone it also is recognized as complex and multidimensional Critiques of the field advise that pain is often unrecognized inadequately assessed and underestimated Unidimensional scales relying upon self report are commonly used both clinically and in research settings but they are vulnerable to presentation bias and they fail to capture the complexity of this multidimensional phenomenon In consequence there has been considerable interest and effort devoted to the generation of measures capable to capturing the experience for both research and clinical purposes Both behavioral and physiological approaches have been pursued Verbal behavior is represented by self report scales that vary in dimensionality typically seeking to represent sensory affective and cognitive features of the experience The status of self report scales as the gold standard for pain assessment has been questioned Nonverbal measures seek to capture behavioral activity ranging from facial expression through limb movements and gestures to posture Physiological measures are similarly wide ranging capitalizing on recent developments in brain imaging and novel approaches to autonomic regulation There also are efforts to fuse behavioral and physiological measures as a means of capturing the complexity of pain This series of papers seeks to represent the most recent conceptual and empirical advances in the important and rapidly advancing field of pain assessment and measurement We invite both reviews of the literature and research investigations advancing the field COVID-19 and the Challenges of Trauma and Transformations Ananta Kumar Giri,Saji Varghese,2025-07-08 Covid 19 has created trauma death and destruction as well as challenged us for transformation of our existing society economy and polity The book engages with the challenges of transformations as a consequence of this It brings reflections from several disciplines and thought practitioners from around the world It explores challenges of transformations in economics politics self science and society for living meaningfully in a post pandemic world It also explores pathways of creative planetary futures that we need to cultivate with and beyond Covid 19 The chronicles of the pandemic Arjun Kumar Singh,2025-01-06 The COVID 19 pandemic turned many people s worst fears into reality The sudden onset of a global lockdown led to widespread fear isolation and economic hardship especially for low income families The lack of resources caused food insecurity and heightened anxiety while the virus s rapid spread posed significant challenges for governments worldwide The pandemic taught valuable lessons on tolerance sustainability and vulnerability As jobs and livelihoods were lost many experienced deep loneliness which became a new form of freedom and isolation The situation worsened after the nationwide lockdown began on March 24 2020 People lived in fear unable to leave their homes or interact due to strict regulations Social withdrawal anxiety about the virus and uncertainty about the future led to a collective sense of helplessness The pandemic also took a toll on mental health leaving people uncertain about what the future held In this book the author draws on personal experiences and real life events to create captivating short stories India's Challenge to Christians Cyril Jenner Modak,1940 Raising Kids With Sensory Processing Disorders Rondalyn V Whitney,Varleisha Gibbs,Rondalyn L.
