Chandler, 2016-12-05 This volume discusses the importance of a multidimensional and multidisciplinary approach to Christian formation based upon godly love and the imago Dei Latin image of God Grounded biblically and theologically this interdisciplinary collection offers perspectives drawn from spirituality ethics philosophy psychology counselling ecclesiology physical health sciences and leadership studies Contributors address spiritual emotional and psychological formation while highlighting how suffering has the potential to draw one closer to God and others The book also details vocational development appropriate stewardship of the physical body and the ways in which the Eucharist sacramentally contributes to the process of formation The book concludes with a call for further exploration of additional research trajectories not the least of which is how Christian formation contributes to the missio Dei the mission of God      God in the Dark Susan R. Pitchford, 2011-04-01 Contemporary Christianity is afflicted with two problems First our spiritual life is often bland and lukewarm Distracted and fragmented by our lives and malnourished on conventional piety we feel out of touch with the God described in the Bible as a consuming fire Second we don't know how to make sense of suffering especially the pain of spiritual darkness and aridity The answer to both of these problems is passion In God in the Dark Susan Pitchford explores the two faces of passion desire the mutual attraction between the soul and God and suffering especially our confusion and grief when we find ourselves in dark places We often misinterpret times of darkness assuming we've failed and God has abandoned us Pitchford suggests that darkness is not a place of abandonment but a place of intimacy and a special call to a deeper relationship with the God who desires us Once we understand this we will not have to fear the dark and when the night closes in around us we can experience it as an embrace

To Call on His Name John Gill, 2019-12-15 The first comprehensive study of the Jesus Prayer and its origins and use providing an overview of this ancient mystical prayer practice from the Christian East which is now also widely used in the Western Church
