Artifact Collective: an attempt to consciousness Nick Stokes, 2019-04-02 ARTIFACT COLLECTIVE is an attempt to create consciousness in a book. You begin. You are trapped in the dark under a great weight. You cannot move. His/her/their/our/your/my consciousnesses take shape through speculation into your condition. Are you buried alive? Why? Are you alive? Are you accelerating through space in a you-shaped windowless vessel? What is your shape? Are you a flicker of light on the horizon of a black hole? Where is she/he? Has he/she lost all he/she loved? Speculation via thought becomes reality. Including historical scientific and found materials and images, ARTIFACT COLLECTIVE is a fictional and non-fictional exploration of quantum theory, cosmology, possible futures, intellectual property, interwoven presents, the commons, the individual and collective mind, and the self. ARTIFACT COLLECTIVE is a corpus. It is an artifact. ARTIFACT COLLECTIVE is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution Share Alike 4.0 License CC BY SA 4.0.

Kinship and Collective Action Gero Bauer, Anya Heise-von der Lippe, Nicole Hirschfelder, Katharina Luther, 2020-09-28 Make kin not babies. Donna Haraway demands in an attempt to offer new and creative ways of thinking what kinship might mean in an age of ecological devastation. At the same time the emergence of a seemingly new culture of public protest and political opinion have provoked scholars such as Judith Butler to address the contexts and dynamics of public collective action. This volume explores the dynamic relationship between structures of kinship and the material conditions under which collective action emerges from a literary and cultural studies perspective. How are kinship and collective action negotiated in literature, the arts or in specific historical moments and how does this affect the role of representation? How have conceptualizations of both concepts developed over time and what can we infer from this for questions of kinship and collective action today?

Cycling Activism Peter Cox,2023-07-28 The first full length study of cycling activism through the lens of social movement theory this book demonstrates that despite tremendous differences bike activism can be understood as a continuous and connected activity spanning a century and a half and across continents With examples from street protest to institutional lobbying it emphasises cycling s current central importance to zero carbon transport futures while showing that cycling activism is also not always about the bike or the cyclist as successive generations of activists have used cycling to articulate different visions of freedom and autonomy Moving from a consideration of social movement theory as a means to understand cycling activism the author presents a series of case studies of collective action organisations networks and campaigns in order to illustrate and elaborate a theoretical model through which diverse campaigns and approaches to change can be understood As such Cycling Activism will appeal to those with interests in mobilisation for social change mobility and transport studies and social movement theory as well as cycling studies
