In light of the Covid 19 pandemic this 2nd edition has been updated with new material around vaccination and communicable disease and includes expanded coverage of mental health issues. Program, 2003 Federal Register, 2012-11 Asian Perspectives and Evidence on Health Promotion and Education Takashi Muto, Eun Woo Nam, Toshitaka Nakahara, 2010-12-03 Globalization and information technology have caused many health problems mental health issues like depression and lifestyle related disease like diabetes and obesity. To cope with these health issues health promotion and education are desperately needed. Convincing policy decision makers to invest in health promotion and education programs it is needed to show its effectiveness. Health promotion and education professionals are expected to construct evidence of health promotion and education. Most of such evidence has been produced in the US and European countries. Because socio economic conditions differ between the Asia and Western countries we cannot depend on such evidence to implement adequate health promotion and education in our region. We must produce and accumulate our own evidence based on Asian perspectives.
