The Biohistory of Feminism Carol Blakney, Abel

Alves, 2026-02-02 The Biohistory of Feminism is a multilayered project that incorporates evolutionary biology to argue that behaviors labelled feminist by human cultures are already found in nature and that there is no one path to being female. On a planet where asexual reproduction dominates intersex and parthenogenesis exist and eusocial females contribute to their colonies without reproducing being female goes beyond motherhood stereotypes dear to those who attempt to perpetuate a universal idea of male dominance in human history. Feminism exists naturally as a series of efforts to express oneself in a multiplicity of ways freely chosen including the attainment of alpha status as a social animal managing resources and forming alliances. Elephant matriarchs and alpha female bonobos were there among social animals before the appearance of human monarchs like Wu Zetian and contemporary politicians like Angela Merkel and cultural leaders like Wangari Maathai. Female dolphins and chimpanzees taught cultural traditions before the intellectual achievements of literary figures like Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz and scientists like Jane Goodall. The diversity of female expression in nature is natural

Resentment Arthur H. Garrison, 2026-01-22 American political history has a rhythm and a progression. Part of that progression is White populist anger and resentment. The Forgotten Man and White Populist Resentment Power Politics and

Narrative Dominance in the Trump Era traces how this White populism rose to dominate the Republican Party primary base how the populist campaigns of Pat Buchanan and Newt Gingrich paved the way for the rise of Donald Trump and how he maintains narrative dominance over both parties and American political discourse Elites in Britain were the focus of resentment in the Revolutionary Era as they presumed to tell the colonists that they were subject to taxes and domination of Great Britain By the 1850s populist resentment was transferred to the national government because it told the freedom loving individual liberty defending slave owning South that slavery was evil and would not be allowed to spread into the west Both before and after suffering defeat the poor White Southern male was told that he was equal with the elites of the Southern slave aristocracy because both are White and superior to all Blacks This resentment found a new iteration when the national government using the power of the courts and the army ended a century of Jim Crow forcing the White voters in Congressman Jim Jordan's flyover country to live with Blacks as equals under the law In 1969 Newsweek famously depicted the Forgotten American in this new social engineered America and the resentment of the imposed change in the cultural society the White voter was required to live in by the late 1960s These voters resented that the America they now lived in was not the one they grew up in The loss of their America was attributed to the federal government being controlled by social elites in Washington D C as well as Wall Street elites who in the 1990s asserted free trade and moved the factory jobs of the forgotten man overseas Presenting a clear and accessible narrative around the development of white populism and its resentment that shapes the narratives and rhetoric of the Trump era this book is crucial for understanding the domestic and foreign policy initiatives of America First and Make America Great Again
