1. Describe the structure and function of the following:
  - a. Neuron: The basic unit of the nervous system, responsible for transmitting information. It consists of a cell body (soma), dendrites, and an axon.
  - b. Synapse: The junction between two neurons where they communicate. It involves the release of neurotransmitters from the presynaptic terminal into the synaptic cleft, which then bind to receptors on the postsynaptic terminal.
  - c. Glial cells: Support cells in the nervous system that provide nutrients, maintain the blood-brain barrier, and clear away debris. Examples include astrocytes, oligodendrocytes, and microglia.
2. Explain the process of signal transmission in a neuron:
  - a. Resting potential: The electrical charge across the cell membrane when the neuron is not firing. It is maintained by the distribution of ions (Na+, K+, Cl-) and the permeability of the membrane.
  - b. Action potential: A rapid, temporary change in the electrical charge that travels down the axon. It is initiated by a stimulus that depolarizes the membrane to a threshold level.
  - c. Propagation: The action potential travels along the axon as a wave of depolarization, triggered by the opening of voltage-gated ion channels.
  - d. Termination: The action potential ends at the axon terminals, where it triggers the release of neurotransmitters into the synaptic cleft.
3. Discuss the role of neurotransmitters in the nervous system:
  - a. Definition: Chemical messengers that transmit signals from one neuron to another across a synapse.
  - b. Release: Triggered by the arrival of an action potential at the presynaptic terminal, causing the release of neurotransmitters from synaptic vesicles.
  - c. Reception: Neurotransmitters bind to receptors on the postsynaptic terminal, which can either excite or inhibit the postsynaptic neuron.
  - d. Termination: The signal is stopped by reuptake into the presynaptic terminal or by degradation by enzymes in the synaptic cleft.
4. Describe the different types of neurons and their functions:
  - a. Sensory neurons: Carry information from the sensory organs (e.g., eyes, ears) to the brain.
  - b. Motor neurons: Carry information from the brain to the muscles and glands, controlling movement and bodily functions.
  - c. Interneurons: Connect sensory and motor neurons, processing information within the brain and spinal cord.
5. Explain the concept of the blood-brain barrier and its importance:
  - a. Definition: A selective barrier that prevents most substances from the bloodstream from entering the brain.
  - b. Structure: Formed by the tight junctions between the endothelial cells of the brain's blood vessels.
  - c. Importance: Protects the brain from toxins and pathogens in the blood, while allowing essential nutrients and oxygen to pass through.

addition we've created a section on the rapidly growing topic of Pharmacogenomics. If you are a pharmacist seeking to become board certified in geriatrics by passing the exam, this is a must-have study guide. We've edited our VERY popular BCPS Bullets book and created a review for the geriatric pharmacy exam based on the Board of Pharmaceutical Specialties content outline. With recent PASS rates around 40%, you have to have the right tools to pass this exam, and this book will help immensely. In addition to the exam being very difficult, you are likely a busy professional with very minimal free time. I've always had a hard time staying focused while studying from large review article-type study guides and have squandered hours reading while retaining very little. This book is intended to be a crash course/cheat sheet/overview of the most highly testable material I wanted to remember the really important stuff because I know it is impossible to know every minute detail. BCGP Bullets the Condensed BCGP Study Guide will help prepare you for the exam as well as help you maximize your study time. We have covered over 100 disease states with critical clinical pearls like drugs of choice, drug interactions, disease state education, and geriatric-specific nuggets for certain medications. Biostatistics basics, important geriatric terminology, social, financial, and emotional considerations are also included in this book. Items like elder abuse, advanced directives, and power of attorney show up in the content outline, and we have also outlined the basics of this terminology. I can assure you that there is no doubt this book will help in your preparation for becoming a BCGP-certified pharmacist.
