Guide to Graphics Software Tools Jim X. Chen,2007-08-23 Many scientists in different disciplines realize the power of graphics but are also bewildered by the complex implementations of a graphics system and numerous graphics tools More often than not they choose the wrong software tools and end up with unsatisfactory results Hopefully if we know how a graphics system works and what basic functions many graphics tools provide we can understand and employ some graphics tools without spending much precious time on learning all the details that may not be applicable and we can become graphics experts through such a shortcut Overview This book aims to be a shortcut to graphics theory programming tools and applications It covers all graphics basics and several advanced topics without including some implementation details that are not necessary in graphics applications It categorizes current graphics tools according to their applications and provides many weblinks to important resources on the Internet The purpose is to provide an exhaustive list of graphics tools with their major applications and functions The reference list may contain some inaccuracies since new tools are constantly emerging VI Preface and old tools become obsolete Through explaining and categorizing these graphics tools and their primary appUcations we hope to provide learners and researchers with different means and appUcation areas in computer graphics and help them understand and use visualization modeling animation simulation virtual reality and many online resources

Internet Technologies and Information Services Joseph B. Miller, 2009. Why another book about the Internet? The answer is simple: while there are a number of excellent books on various aspects of networking, the Internet, HTML, Web design, Web programming, XML, and Web searching, there is not a single survey text that explores each of these topics holistically in the context of the knowledge and skill needs of those preparing for careers in any of the many information technology, IT intensive fields such as library and information science, LIS, business and management, information systems, MIS, and decision science, DIS, to name but a few. Part 1 focuses on the technologies of the Internet. Part 2 focuses on the many forms of Internet content and how it is created. Part 3 is devoted to the topic of Internet information retrieval.
