more educational achievement Contrary to past research the oldest age group had a significantly higher average health literacy score than the younger age group and those identifying as black African American had the highest average health literacy score Based on the findings of the current study health care providers may want to increase their focus on facilitating quality interactions and effective communication with patients in order to improve health literacy care adherence and outcomes The results that suggest a possible change in the demographic characteristics that make people at risk for low health literacy provide a rationale for health care providers to use a universal health literacy approach This approach seeks to provide easy to understand explanations and medical resources to all patients without any assumptions of low or high health literacy Overall the current study suggests the importance of patient provider interactions as part of the complex system impacting health literacy   Toward a Healthy Society Milton Fisk,2000 Ideally the public fund behind this insurance would be derived from a progressive income tax BOOK JACKET   Food Allergies and Adverse Reactions Judy E.
