area's artists has been fuelled by the area's pressing concerns of indigenous peoples' minority discourse, environmental degradation, climate change, multinational corporations' greed, dictatorship, and people's struggle for control of their resources. Taking a holistic approach to the Niger Delta experience, this book showcases artistic responses from literature, visual arts, and performances such as masquerades, dances, and festivals. Chapters cover authors, artists, and performers such as Ben Okri, Ken Saro Wiwa, Isidore Okpewho, J. P. Clark, and Bruce Onobrakpeya, as well as topics like the famous Benin bronze figures and Urhobo Ude dance. Affirming the wealth and diversity of the region, which continues to inspire creative artistic productions, The Literature and Arts of the Niger Delta will be of interest to researchers of African literature, arts, and other cultural productions.

Sounds of Resistance Eunice Rojas, Lindsay Michie, 2013-10-08 From the gospel music of slavery in the antebellum South to anti-apartheid freedom songs in South Africa, this two-volume work documents how music has fueled resistance and revolutionary movements in the United States and worldwide. Political resistance movements and the creation of music, two seemingly unrelated phenomena, often result from the seed of powerful emotions, opinions, or experiences. This two-volume set presents essays that explore the connections between diverse musical forms and political activism across the globe, revealing fascinating similarities regarding the interrelationship between music and political resistance in widely different geographic or cultural circumstances. The breadth of specific examples covered in Sounds of Resistance: The Role of Music in Multicultural Activism highlights strong similarities between diverse situations, for example, protest against the Communist government in Poland and drug discourse in hip-hop music in the United States, and demonstrates how music has repeatedly played a vital role in energizing or expanding various political movements. By exploring activism and how music relates to specific movements through an interdisciplinary lens, the authors document how music often enables powerless members of oppressed groups to communicate or voice their concerns.

Sociolinguistics in the Nigerian Context Dele Adeyanju, 2007 People, 1991 This Week, 1986 Arrest the Music! Tejumola Olaniyan, 2004-10-29 Olaniyan has given us a profound and beautifully integrated book which culminates in a persuasive interpretation of the relationship between Fela's apparently incompatible presentational selves. The book's accessible and evocative prose is in itself a kind of homage to Fela's continual ability to seduce and astonish. This is such an attractive book you feel like ransacking your collection for Fela tapes. Karin Barber, an indispensable companion to Fela's music and a rich source of information for studies in modern African popular music. Akin Euba, Arrest the Music is a lively musical study of Fela Anikulapo Kuti, one of Africa's most recognizable popular and controversial musicians. The flamboyant originator of the Afrobeat sound and self-proclaimed voice of the voiceless, Fela used music, sharp-tongued lyrics, and derisive humor to challenge the shortcomings of Nigerian and postcolonial African states. Looking at the social context, instrumentation, lyrics, visual art, people, and organizations through which Fela produced his music, Tejumola Olaniyan offers a wider, more suggestive perspective on Fela and his impact on listeners in all parts of the world. Placing Fela front and center, Olaniyan underscores important social issues such as authenticity racial and cultural identity the relationship of popular culture to radical politics and the meaning of postcolonialism nationalism and globalism in contemporary Africa Readers interested in music culture society and politics whether or not they know Fela and his music will find this work invaluable for understanding the career of an African superstar and the politics of popular culture in contemporary Africa African Expressive Cultures Patrick McNaughton general editor Kunapipi ,1991 Literature and National Consciousness Ernest Emenyonu,1989 New Foundations for a Science of Text and Discourse Robert de Beaugrande,1997-02 A magnum opus in the now vast domain of discourse studies whose history methods and subdomains nobody knows as well as Robert de Beugrande No other book in the humanities and social sciences today integrates such encyclopedic knowledge into a thoroughly transdisciplinary international intercultural and critical program For all advanced students of discourse this book should be their major mentor guide and compendium of research Teun A van Dijk University of Amsterdam and Editor of the journals Text and Discourse and Society Professor de Beugrande has been one of the most influential scholars in text linguistics since he helped to found it as a discipline He commands a large panorama of knowledge and brings this learning to bear on a variety of topics giving fresh insights and new dimensions In his latest book he ranges over linguistic educational and cultural disciplines in order to synthesize an important framework within which text and discourse can be understood in new ways John Sinclair Birmingham University and Editor in Chief of Collins COBUILD English Language Dictionary Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,1995 Ibadan Journal of English Studies ,2011 Fundamentals of Adult Education ,1991 Techno-politics and the Production of Knowledge Wale Adebani,2005 Issues in Contemporary Nigeria Development Ngozi Ojiakor,G.
