Handbook of Research on Leadership Experience for Academic Direction (LEAD) Programs for Student Success Salinitri, Geri, 2020-02-28 Leadership Experience for Academic Directions LEAD is a program that was developed as a service learning program for teacher candidates in preparation for the teaching career As youth populations continue to diversify and as the issues impacting youth continue to surface it is the responsibility of educators administrators and the governments to provide all the opportunities for youth to succeed academically socially and personally Teachers especially are instrumental in making this happen therefore it is imperative that teachers come into the profession with the cognitive and non cognitive skills to motivate youth to succeed The Handbook of Research on Leadership Experience for Academic Direction LEAD Programs for Student Success is a critical scholarly book that explores the many facets of the teaching profession as they relate to working with at risk youth and helping them reach their full potential This book provides the groundwork for programs that will succeed at the K 12 education level and at the teacher education level Featuring a range of topics such as human capital mental health and social learning theory this book is essential for academicians teaching professionals administrators professional development educators policymakers researchers and students

Creating Participatory Dialogue in Archaeological and Cultural Heritage Interpretation: Multinational Perspectives John H. Jameson, Sherene Baugher, 2022-02-28 This volume examines evolving trends and transnational perspectives on public interpretation of archaeological and cultural heritage as well as levels of communication from local to regional national and international It is presented in the context of the evolution of cultural heritage studies from the 20th century expert approach to the 21st century people centered approach with public participation and community involvement at all phases of the decision making process Our premise is not just about bringing in community members to be partners in decision making processes some projects are being initiated by the community not the heritage experts In some instances community members are central in initiating and bringing about change rather than the archaeologists or heritage specialists In several cases in the book descendants take the lead in changing heritage narratives The book addresses several central questions Do these actions represent new emphases or more fundamental pedagogical shifts in interpretation Are they resulting in more effective interpretation in facilitating emotional and intellectual connections and meanings for audiences Are they revealing silenced histories Can they contribute to or help mediate dialogues among a diversity of cultures Can they be shared experiences as examples of good practice at national and international levels What are the interpretation and presentation challenges for the future Cultural heritage as an expression of a diversity of cultures can be an important mediator between pasts and futures In the past people in power from the dominant ethnic racial socio economic gender and religious groups determined the heritage message Minorities were often silenced their participation in the building and growth of a city county or nation s history was overlooked New philosophical methodological trends in public interpretation are reshaping the messages delivered at archaeological cultural heritage sites worldwide The role of the experts as well as the participatory engagement of audiences and stakeholders are being redefined and reassessed This book explores these processes their results and effects on the future ECIC2016-Proceedings of the 8th European Conference on Intellectual Capital Carlo Bagnoli, Chiara Mio, Andrea Garlatti and Maurizio

Massaro,2016-04-21 School-to-School Collaboration Paul Wilfred Armstrong,Chris Brown,2022-09-26 Taking a global perspective the chapters within this book follow a common framework to explore how macro level factors help to create the conditions in which school to school collaboration is likely to succeed or fail on the ground Research Handbook on the Law and Politics of Migration Catherine Dauvergne,2021-04-30 As the law and politics of migration become increasingly intertwined this thought provoking Research Handbook addresses the challenge of analysing their growing relationship Discussing the evolving theoretical approaches to migration it explores the growing attention given to the legal frameworks for migration and the expansion of regulation as migration moves to the centre of the political global agenda The Research Handbook demonstrates that the overlap between law and politics puts the rule of law at risk in matters of migration

Education and Theatres Michael Finneran,Michael Anderson,2019-09-25 This volume is the first book to map a broad range of practices and critically examine the impact of education and outreach programmes in theatres and theatre companies around the globe This innovative volume looks specifically at the manner in which theatres and theatre companies engage in educational outreach and community work An array of global case studies examines a wide range of existing and innovative practices and scrutinises how this work achieves successful results and delivers impact and outcome on investment The editors set the scene briefly in terms of the history of education in theatre organisations and then move on to chart some of the difficulties and challenges associated with this work as well as looking into the conceptual issues that need to be interrogated so that we may understand the impact of outreach and education work on the communities and audiences it aims to reach A range of theatre practitioners and academics describe their work its background and what the authors understand to be successful outcomes for both the participants and the theatres Finally the book offers suggestions for both practitioners and researchers regarding further development in this work Educational Reciprocity and Adaptivity Abe Ata,Ly Tran,Indika Liyanage,2017-12-22 Educational Reciprocity and Adaptability challenges the common belief that adapting to new educational settings is the responsibility of international students alone The book argues that reciprocal responses are required by students and stakeholders alike for an efficient and equitable accommodation of international students in educational settings Considering how international students negotiate academic challenges and social tensions it presents both theoretical frameworks and practical tools to work around the tension regarding ethical academic practices

Crucially exploring these issues across a range of geographical and institutional contexts and therefore offering critical insights into significant developments in international education across the world the much needed research in this edited collection explores institutional educational policies regarding international students and stakeholders institutional practices and how they are received educational adaptability and responses from different stakeholders the experiences of international students and institutions in negotiating academic and social tensions This important contribution to research on the experiences of international students in different geographical and educational contexts is of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of international education comparative education sociology of education youth studies intercultural studies migration studies and TESOL
