Playthings and Playtimes Hannah Field, Seth Giddings, Ben Highmore, 2025-10-29 In 2024 at the Barbican Art Gallery in London the Mexico based Belgian artist Francis Al s exhibited films of children from across the world playing with sticks hoops marbles and other toys The implication was clear play feels and looks like a universal language but takes on specific local forms Using this as a starting point Playthings and Playtimes explores the conflict and contradictions that circulate when play is simultaneously recognized as a species attribute part of human nature and as something crucially differentiated across time and space by design technology sentiment pedagogic values and so on The chapters in this volume demonstrate this interplay between the fixed and the mutable Topics range from the elaborate miniature worlds made by H G Wells and his sons to digitized fidget spinners from avant garde Uruguayan artist Joaquin Torres Garcia s wooden blocks to the playground spaces of Kuwait and from the much maligned plastic toy to the new museum Young V A Together they bring play and the world of feelings into sustained contact with the history of material culture and design psychoanalysis childhood studies and other disciplines concerned with play culture In the process Playthings and Playtimes investigates key elements of a humanities approach to the modern world through the prism of play s affective materiality

Don't Use Your Words! Jane Juffer, 2019-05-28 How children are taught to control their feelings and how they resist this emotional management through cultural production Today even young kids talk to each other across social media by referencing memes songs and movements constructing a common vernacular that resists parental educational and media imperatives to name their feelings and thus control their bodies Over the past two decades children s television programming has provided a therapeutic site for the processing of emotions such as anger but in doing so has enforced normative structures of feeling that Jane Juffer argues weaken the intensity and range of children s affective experiences Don t Use Your Words seeks to challenge those norms highlighting the ways that kids express their feelings through cultural productions including drawings fan art memes YouTube videos dance moves and conversations while gaming online Focusing on kids between ages five and nine Don t Use Your Words situates these productions in specific contexts including immigration policy referenced in drawings by Central American children just released from detention centers and electoral politics as contested in kids artwork expressing their anger at Trump s victory Taking issue with the mainstream tendency to speak on behalf of children Juffer argues that kids have the agency to answer for themselves what does it feel like to be a kid

Defending Assessment Security in a Digital World Phillip Dawson, 2020-10-26 Defending Assessment Security in a Digital World explores the phenomenon of e cheating and identifies ways to bolster assessment to ensure that it is secured against threats posed by technology Taking a multi disciplinary approach the book develops the concept of assessment security through research from cybersecurity game studies artificial intelligence and surveillance studies Throughout there is a rigorous examination of the ways people cheat in different contexts and the effectiveness of different approaches at stopping cheating This evidence informs the development of standards and metrics for assessment security and ways that assessment design can help address e cheating Its new concept of assessment security both complements and challenges traditional notions of academic integrity By focusing on proactive principles based approaches the book equips educators technologists and policymakers to address both current e cheating as well as future threats      The Best Roblox Games Ever (Independent & Unofficial) Kevin Pettman,2021-02-25
