Mobilizing The Masses Building Revolution In Henan:

Mobilizing the Masses Odoric Y. K. Wou, 1994 A study of the roots of revolution in the Chinese province of Henan this book describes in detail more than two decades 1925 to 1949 of the efforts of the Communist Party to build mass support for revolution These were decades of social and political crisis beginning with the May 30th Movement exacerbated by the Japanese invasion in 1937 and culminating in the Communist victory of 1949 Looking for historical continuities and changes the book traces the Communist movement's trajectory from the cities to the countryside and back to the urban centers in the process testing the major social science paradigms of peasant based revolution The author studies the interaction in Henan between the Communist revolutionaries and various groups that constituted the social base of the revolution workers religious sectarians rural elites student intellectuals the military and above all the peasantry He closely studies the behavior of these groups and explains the social and structural forces that facilitated or constrained the Communist movement He also shows how Communist mobilization tactics changed to accommodate such varied settings as the war zone the mountains and the floodplain The author concludes that the key to the Communists victory lay in their ability to maneuver their way to political power their skillful use of nationalist sentiment and their community and reform programs that ultimately won over the peasant masses Thus he sees the Chinese Communist movement as a dual revolutionary process of power politics and social revolution Mass Mobilization in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, 1945-1960 Alec Holcombe, 2020-08-31

Immediately after its founding by H Ch Minh in September 1945 the Democratic Republic of Vietnam DRV faced challenges from rival Vietnamese political organizations and from a France determined to rebuild her empire after the humiliations of WWII H with strategic genius courageous maneuver and good fortune was able to delay full scale war with France for sixteen months in the northern half of the country This was enough time for his Communist Party under the cover of its Vietminh front organization to neutralize domestic rivals and install the rough framework of an independent state That fledgling state became a weapon of war when the DRV and France finally came to blows in Hanoi during December of 1946 marking the official beginning of the First Indochina War With few economic resources at their disposal H and his comrades needed to mobilize an enormous and free contribution in manpower and rice from DRV controlled regions Extracting that contribution during the war's early days was primarily a matter of patriotic exhortation By the early 1950s however the infusion of weapons from the United States the Soviet Union and China had turned the Indochina conflict into a total war Hunger exhaustion and violence along with the conflict's growing political complexity challenged the DRV leaders mobilization efforts forcing patriotic appeals to be supplemented with coercion and terror This trend reached its revolutionary climax in late 1952 when H under strong pressure from Stalin and Mao agreed to carry out radical land reform in DRV controlled areas of northern Vietnam The regime's 1954 victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu the return of peace and the division of the country into North and South did not slow this process of socialist transformation Over the next six years 1954-1960 the DRV

s Communist leaders raced through land reform and agricultural collectivization with a relentless sense of urgency Mass Mobilization in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam 1945 1960 explores the way the exigencies of war the dreams of Marxist Leninist ideology and the pressures of the Cold War environment combined with pride and patriotism to drive totalitarian state formation in northern Vietnam Social and Political Change in Revolutionary China David S. G Goodman, 2023-06-14 This in depth study examines the influence of the Chinese Communist Party s effective organizing in Shanxi Province during the War of Resistance Shanxi Province was on the frontlines of the 1937 1945 War of Resistance against Japan the war that launched the Chinese Communist Party During that time the Taihang Base Area of Southwest Shanxi was one of the Party s most important strongholds David Goodman provides the first county level analysis of social and political change in the Taihang Base Area during those crucial years Goodman explores revolution as process arguing that the Party was successful because of its management of revolutionary incrementalism He examines the roles of various groups highlighting the activities of urban intellectuals teachers and peasant small holders as agents of change Based on newly available sources including recently republished materials from the Taihang Base Area restricted documentation from the Taiyuan Archive and interviews with veterans of the Taihang Base Area this meticulously researched work deepens our understanding of the social and political origins of the Chinese revolution Rethinking China's Provinces John Fitzgerald, 2003-09-02 This is the third volume in a series examining the political importance of China s provinces under reform The present book provides a survey of provinces as echelons of the peoples Republic of China It seeks to locate the province as an administrative level in the Chinese state through an examination of history economic social and political developments of these units By situating the province history this volume identifies new developments in the territorial administration of the People s Republic over the reform era It also charts the consequent emergence of the city as an intermediate unit situated between the province and the country and providing challenges to the hierarchy of the bureaucratic state This book includes detailed analyses of Chongqing Henan Guangdong Anhui Yunnan and Heilongjiang It contains extensively researched empirical data collected from these provinces and user friendly maps of these regions New Contributions to the Philosophy of History Daniel Little, 2010-08-05 Insights developed in the past two decades by philosophers of the social sciences can serve to enrich the challenging intellectual tasks of conceptualizing investigating and representing the human past Likewise intimate engagement with the writings of historians can deepen philosophers understanding of the task of knowing the past This volume brings these perspectives together and considers fundamental questions such as What is historical causation What is a large historical structure How can we best conceptualize mentalities and identities What is involved in understanding the subjectivity of historical actors What is involved in arriving at an economic history of a large region How are actions and outcomes related The arguments touch upon a wide range of historical topics the Chinese and French Revolutions the extension of railroads in the nineteenth century and the development of agriculture in medieval China The History of the People's Republic of China, 1949-1976 Julia Strauss, 2007-06-11 Examines the People's Republic of China between 1949 and 1976 from an explicitly historical perspective

Ginkgo Village Tamara Jacka, 2024-06-04 Ginkgo Village provides an original and powerfully intimate bottom up perspective on China's recent tumultuous history Drawing on ethnographic and life history research the book takes readers deep into a village in a mountainous region of central eastern China known as Eyuwan In the twentieth and early twenty first centuries villagers in this region experienced terrible trauma and far reaching socio economic and political change In the civil war 1927 1949 they were slaughtered in fighting between Nationalist and Communist forces During the Great Leap Forward 1958 1961 they suffered appalling famine Since the 1990s mass labour outmigration has lifted local villagers out of poverty and fuelled major transformations in their circumstances and practices social and family relationships and values and aspirations At the heart of this book are eight tales that recreate Ginkgo Village life and the interactions between villagers and the researchers who visit them These tales use storytelling to engender an empathetic understanding of Ginkgo Villagers often traumatic life experiences to present concrete details about transformations in everyday village life in an engaging manner and to explore the challenges and rewards of fieldwork research that attempts empathetic understanding across cultures

Civilization Unlike other texts on modern Chinese history which tend to be either encyclopedic or too pedantic Revolution and Its Past is useably comprehensive focused on cutting edge interpretations and written in a style that engages students from beginning to end The Second Edition uses the theme of identities of the nation itself and of the Chinese people to probe the vast changes that have swept over China from late imperial times to the beginning of the twenty first century In so doing it explores the range of identities China has chosen over time and those that outsiders have bestowed upon China and its people showing how as China rapidly modernizes the issue of Chinese identity in the modern world looms large

Back-alley Banking Kellee S. Tsai, 2002 Chinese entrepreneurs have founded more than thirty million private businesses since Beijing instituted economic reforms in the late 1970s Most of these private ventures however have been denied access to official sources of credit State banks continue to serve state owned enterprises yet most private financing remains illegal How have Chinese entrepreneurs managed to fund their operations In defiance of the national banking laws small business owners have created a dizzying variety of informal financing mechanisms including rotating credit associations and private banks disguised as other types of organizations Back Alley Banking includes lively biographical sketches of individual entrepreneurs telling quotations from official documents policy statements and newspaper accounts and interviews with a wide variety of women and men who give vivid narratives of their daily struggles accomplishments and hopes for future prosperity Kellee S Tsai's book draws upon her unparalleled fieldwork in China's world of shadow finance to challenge conventional ideas about the political economy of development Business owners in China she shows have mobilized local social and political resources in innovative ways despite the absence of state directed credit or a well defined system of private property rights Entrepreneurs and local officials have been able to draw on the uncertainty of formal political and economic institutions to enhance local prosperity
