Gero, Mary Lou Maher, 2013-05-13 Over the last decade research into design processes utilizing ideas and models drawn from artificial intelligence has resulted in a better understanding of design particularly routine design as a process Indeed most of the current research activity directly or indirectly deals only with routine design Not surprisingly many practicing designers state that the level of understanding represented by these models is only of mild interest because they fail to embody any ideas about creativity This volume provides a set of chapters in the areas of modeling creativity and knowledge based creative design that examines the potential role and form of computer aided design which supports creativity It aims to define the state of the art of computational creativity in design as well as to identify research directions Published at a time when the field of computational creativity in design is still immature it should influence the directions of growth and assist the field in reaching maturity Modeling Creativity and Knowledge-based Creative Design, 1989*

Human-Computer Interaction Steve Howard, Judy Hammond, Gitte Lindgaard, 2013-06-05 The theme of the 1997 INTERACT conference Discovering New Worlds of HCI signals major changes that are taking place with the expansion of new technologies into fresh areas of work and leisure throughout the world and new pervasive powerful systems based on multimedia and the internet HCI has a vital role to play in these new worlds to ensure that people using the new technologies are empowered rather than subjugated to the technology that they increasingly have to use In addition outcomes from HCI research studies over the past 20 years are now finding their way into many organisations and helping to improve and enhance work practices These factors have strongly influenced the INTERACT 97 Committee when creating the conference programme with the result that besides the more traditional HCI research and education focus found in previous INTERACT conferences one strand of the 1997 conference has been devoted to industry and another to multimedia The growth in the IFIP TC13 committee itself reflects the expansion of HCI into new worlds Membership of IFIP TC13 has risen to now include representatives of 24 IFIP member country societies from many parts of the world In 1997 IFIP TC13 breaks new ground by holding its sixth INTERACT conference in the Asia Pacific region This is a significant departure from previous INTERACT conferences that were all held in Europe and is especially important for the Asia Pacific region as HCI expands beyond its traditional base Creativity & Cognition, 2002 Knowledge-based Computer-aided Architectural Design
