

The background of the cover is a light gray with a subtle perspective. Scattered across the top and sides are numerous three-dimensional geometric shapes, including cubes, pyramids, and prisms, in various colors like blue, orange, red, purple, and black. Some of these shapes are partially cut or broken, creating a sense of dynamic movement and complexity.

Schiefelbein, Noel F. McGinn, 2017-04-13 Learning to Educate Proposals for the Reconstruction of Education in Developing Countries is a practical and strategic guide for education leaders and others who want to do more to improve the quality of curriculum learning teaching and assessment The book is also a philosophical guide that articulates and affirms the fundamental values and purposes of education in a rapidly changing world It confronts us with the opportunity and the necessity to unravel bedrock assumptions and stimulate further discussion about the nature of teaching and learning What does it take to change mindsets And how do we bring about reconstruction without losing our groundings and bearings The authors Ernesto Schiefelbein and Noel McGinn use the full weight of their extensive knowledge in education research teaching policy and action to argue that in order to reconstruct quality education we must begin by improving its foundation The result is a seasoned and superbly articulated examination of the principles and practices of teaching and learning which focuses on the crucial need of all children to learn how to learn Innovative cultured and consistently captivating this book is bold and in the field of comparative and international education unprecedented Current and cutting edge knowledge on critically important dimensions of effective teaching and learning N Dri Th r se Assi Lumumba Cornell University A treasury of insights into the education challenge currently proposed by the UN global 2030 Agenda universal quality learning Kenneth King University of Edinburgh A helpful roadmap to the essential questions facing educators today Fernando M Reimers Harvard University

Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses Jayne D. Greenberg, Nichole Calkins, Lisa Spinosa, 2021-08-20 Fitness education is often overlooked for various reasons no equipment no weight room large class size or lack of professional development Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses provides real solutions for all these issues This book offers secondary level physical educators innovative ideas practical answers and guidance in implementing fitness education programming that will meet the needs of all students Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses is packed with highly useful tools and resources 211 instructional photos showing exercises and stretches that require no equipment and are easily adapted for varying abilities 18 pacing guides that form a week by week blueprint for implementing a semester long fitness education course A robust online resource with all 18 pacing guides as well as a blank template for developing your own 139 video demonstrations of all the book s exercises and stretches PowerPoint presentations to show in PE classes including video demonstrations of the book s exercises and stretches and teacher aids and student handouts including assignments assessments posters and a 12 week personal fitness plan Teachers can use the pacing guides to develop a semester long fitness education course that can be implemented in either a traditional or block schedule These guides offer objectives class discussion topics activities assessments and teaching strategies for each week of an 18 week semester All topics in the guides are aligned with SHAPE America's National Standards and Grade Level Outcomes for K-12 Physical Education. The authors guide teachers in addressing the following priorities within a fitness education course: social and emotional learning, behavior modification principles and adherence to fitness activities, social cognitive theory, classroom management, student safety, equity, diversity and inclusion, and social justice. Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses also includes a detailed chapter on nutrition education written by internationally recognized sport nutritionist Lisa Dorfman, who provides teachers a wealth of information to integrate into fitness courses. Teachers will learn how to integrate a quality fitness education curriculum into any setting: rural, urban, or suburban, and any learning model: remote, hybrid, or in-person learning. Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses is organized into three sections. Part I presents both theoretical and practical knowledge of fitness education, its importance in a standards-based curriculum, pedagogical and content knowledge considerations, nutrition, wellness, and consumer issues, and the general components of fitness education. Part II focuses on various components of fitness education: flexibility, strength, and cardiorespiratory fitness. This part includes stretching and muscular strength and endurance workouts illustrated with photos in the book and videos in the online resource. Part III guides readers in enabling students to participate in community fitness and activity events to support the development of lifelong fitness habits. Through Designing and Teaching Fitness Education Courses, teachers will be able to provide appropriate fitness activities that will lead to the elevated health and wellness of students and a greater appreciation for participating in lifelong activities.
