Modern Architecture Religious Communities 1850 1970:

Modern Architecture and Religious Communities, 1850-1970 Kate Jordan,Ayla Lepine,2018-04-17 Social groups formed around shared religious beliefs encountered significant change and challenges between the 1860s and the 1970s This book is the first collection of essays of its kind to take a broad thematically driven case study approach to this genre of architecture and its associated visual culture and communal experience Examples range from Nuns holy spaces celebrating the life of St Theresa of Lisieux to utopian American desert communities and their reliance on the philosophy of Teilhard de Chardin Modern religious architecture converses with a broad spectrum of social anthropological cultural and theological discourses and the authors engage with them rigorously and innovatively As such new readings of sacred spaces offer new angles and perspectives on some of the dominant narratives of the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries empire urban expansion pluralism and modernity In a post traditional landscape religious architecture suggests expansive ways of exploring themes including nostalgia and revivalism engineering and technological innovation prayer and spiritual experimentation and the beauty of holiness for a brave new world Shaped by the tensions and anxieties of the modern era and powerfully expressed in the space and material culture of faith the architecture presented here creates a set of new turning points in the history of the built environment   Modern Architecture and Religious Communities, 1850-1970 Kate Jordan,Ayla Lepine,2015-12-01 Modern architecture has brought significant changes to the way religious groups use spaces This is the first essay collection to present a thematically driven approach to sacred buildings and the communities who build and inhabit them Case studies include a Catalonian monastery a Gothic church in Oxford a chapel in the American Midwest and a synagogue in Jerusalem The volume will be of interest to architectural historians and historians of religion who study nineteenth and twentieth century cultures worldwide   Modernity and the Construction of Sacred Space Aaron French,Katharina Waldner,2024-07-01 This volume focuses on the connection between modern design and architectural practices and the construction of sacred spaces Not only language and ritual but space place and architecture play a significant role in constructing special or religious spaces However this concept of a constructed sacred space remains undertheorized in religious studies and the history of art and architecture in general This volume therefore revisits the question of a modern sacred space from an interdisciplinary perspective focusing on religion space and architecture during the emergence of the modern period and up until contemporary times Revisiting the ways in which modern architects and artists have endeavored to create sacred spaces and buildings for the modern world will address the underlying questions of how religious ideas especially those related to esotericism and to alternative religiosities have transformed the way sacred spaces are conceptualized today   The Oxford History of British and Irish Catholicism, Volume IV Carmen M. Mangion,Susan O'Brien,2023-09-01 After 1830 Catholicism in Britain and Ireland was practised and experienced within an increasingly secure Church that was able to build a national presence and public identity With the passage of the Catholic

Relief Act Catholic Emancipation in 1829 came civil rights for the United Kingdom s Catholics which in turn gave Catholic organisations the opportunity to carve out a place in civil society within Britain and its empire This Catholic revival saw both a strengthening of central authority structures in Rome creating a more unified transnational spiritual empire with the person of the Pope as its centre and a reinvigoration at the local and popular level through intensified sacramental devotional and communal practices After the 1840s Catholics in Britain and Ireland not only had much in common as a consequence of the Church s global drive for renewal but the development of a shared Catholic culture across the two islands was deepened by the large scale migration from Ireland to many parts of Britain following the Great Famine of 1845 Yet at the same time as this push towards a degree of unity and uniformity occurred there were forces which powerfully differentiated Catholicism on either side of the Irish Sea Four very different religious configurations of religious majorities and minorities had evolved since the sixteenth century Reformation in England Ireland Scotland and Wales Each had its own dynamic of faith and national identity and Catholicism had played a vital role in all of them either as other or in the case of Ireland as the majority s self Identities of religion nation and empire and the intersection between them lie at the heart of this volume They are unpacked in detail in thematic chapters which explore the shared Catholic identity that was built between 1830 and 1913 and the ways in which that identity was differentiated by social class gender and above all nation Taken together these chapters show how Catholicism was integral to the history of the United Kingdom in this period Modern Architecture and the Sacred Ross Anderson,Maximilian Sternberg,2020-11-26 This edited volume Modern Architecture and the Sacred presents a timely reappraisal of the manifold engagements that modern architecture has had with the sacred It comprises fourteen individual chapters arranged in three thematic sections Beginnings and Transformations of the Modern Sacred Buildings for Modern Worship and Semi Sacred Settings in the Cultural Topography of Modernity The first interprets the intellectual and artistic roots of modern ideas of the sacred in the post Enlightenment period and tracks the transformation of these in architecture over time The second studies the ways in which organized religion responded to the challenges of the new modern self understanding and then the third investigates the ways that abstract modern notions of the sacred have been embodied in the ersatz sacred contexts of theatres galleries memorials and museums While centring on Western architecture during the decisive period of the first half of the 20th century a time that takes in the early musings on spirituality by some of the avant garde in defiance of Sachlichkeit and the machine aesthetic the volume also considers the many varied appropriations of sacrality that architects have made up to the present day and also in social and cultural contexts beyond the West Constructing Faith in the Antipodes Lisa Marie Daunt,2025-12-10 Over 1 650 churches were built in Queensland Australia between 1945 and 1977 They constitute some of the most notable modern architecture in the state and reveal tensions surrounding modernism s role in cultural expression and regional identity While much research has focused on post war modern church architecture in the Global North little has been done on the Global South This book offers a particular perspective on modernist church architecture differing from accounts of buildings in the northern hemisphere as it highlights how church architecture in Queensland was shaped by its very specific time and place a young and developing state covering a vast area of land sparsely populated highly multi denominational and located in the antipodes Modern architectural developments and emergent religious ideas did not simply transfer to Queensland Rather architectural ideas were circulated globally allowing for a global narrative This landmark study seeks to broaden views and methods for future research both locally and internationally Richly illustrated Constructing Faith in the Antipodes combines both a chronological and a thematic approach to narrate modern church architectural history and offers a fascinating glimpse into a distinct collection of modern church buildings Rethinking Global Modernism Vikramaditya Prakash,Maristella Casciato,Daniel E. Coslett,2021-11-22 This anthology collects developing scholarship that outlines a new decentred history of global modernism in architecture using postcolonial and other related theoretical frameworks By both revisiting the canons of modernism and seeking to decolonize and globalize those canons the volume explores what a genuinely global history of architectural modernism might begin to look like Its chapters explore the historiography and weaknesses of modernism s normative interpretations and propose alternatives to them The collection offers essays that interrogate transnationalism in new ways reconsiders the agency of the subaltern and the roles played by infrastructures materials and global institutions in propagating a diversity of modernisms internationally Issues such as colonial modernism architectural pedagogy cultural imperialism and spirituality are engaged With essays from both established scholars and up and coming researchers this is an important reference for a new understanding of this crucial and developing topic Book Review Digest ,1992 The City Remade Joseph Heathcott,2002 Library Journal Book Review 1980 Jaques Cattell Press,1983-06 Archaeology and Ideology in Nineteenth Century Ireland Janis M. McEwan,2003 As McEwan argues the past is well suited to manipulation and can be used to uphold particular ideologies for example those dictated by the state This discussion of the development of archaeology in Ireland in the 19th century places it within an intellectual and historical context to determine the inherent and external factors at work in directing and influencing its progress With Foucault as the starting point McEwan assesses a range of important ideological concepts including romanticism nationalism imperialism and individualism and asks whetehr archaeology and those individuals within it chose to embrace or resist them Concluding that Ireland s past is both complex and contradictory she reaffirms that Irish archaeology of the 19th century was essentially contrived to serve the people rather than always upholding the power structure Directory of History Departments, Historical Organizations, and Historians ,2006 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1983 ABM ,1986 Abstracts of journal articles books essays exhibition catalogs dissertations and exhibition reviews The scope of ARTbibliographies Modern extends from artists and movements beginning with Impressionism in the late 19th century up to the most recent works and trends in the late 20th century Photography is covered from its invention in 1839 to the present A particular emphasis is placed upon adding
