Box Office, 1957 Ticket Scalping Kerry Segrave, 2006-11-15 Ticket scalping is as much an American staple as apple pie Beginning as early as the mid 1800s scalpers known as sidewalk men were charging all the traffic would bear for event tickets Although these speculators were generally viewed as pariahs and public opinion was against the practice legal attempts to limit their activities were far from successful Boston enacted laws as early as 1873 while Pennsylvania followed suit in 1884 Still such measures did little good since some laws were declared unconstitutional and for the ones that were upheld the fines were negligible with jail time rarely served Over the years as moral objections to scalping dimmed the public became more tolerant as the practice became increasingly prevalent By the 1990s the capitalist mantras of free market and economic principles of supply and demand were even being used to justify the practice This volume details the ways in which scalping has changed over the years from a one man business to an agency controlled enterprise from performances by Jenny Lind to Billy Joel The book examines the general situation public opinion and legal perception of scalping for four distinct periods 1850 1899 1900 1917 1918 1949 and 1950 2005 Emphasis is placed on the ways in which public and legal perception of the practice has evolved over this period Scalping slowly gaining a more positive status has become more accepted as part of the economic practice of free markets Repertory Movie Theaters of New York City Ben Davis, 2017-03-04 New York's repertory movie houses specialized in presenting films ignored by mainstream and art house audiences Curating vintage and undistributed movies from various countries they educated the public about the art of film at a time when the cinema had begun to be respected as an art form Operating on shoestring budgets in funky settings each repertory house had its own personality reflecting the preferences of the often eccentric proprietor While a few theaters existed in other cities New York offered the greatest number and variety Focusing on the active years from 1960 through 1994 this book documents the repertory movement in the context of economics and film culture Billboard, 1951-03-24 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Box Office John Anderson, 1929 The Movie Game Martin Dale, 1997 The Movie Game is the first ever comprehensive guide to the industry on both sides of the Atlantic The book outlines the game
