This Time in the Church Michael Kelly, 2015-07-01 The series of papers in this volume were given as talks in Sydney during a year of extraordinary surprises after Pope Benedict XVI resigned and Pope Francis was elected as Bishop of Rome as he likes to call himself Even if it's only catching up with many things that have become commonplace assumptions in the contemporary world it would seem that the Catholic Church is at a turning point as has been evidenced in all that Pope Francis has done since becoming Bishop of Rome The subject of the first paper by Michael Kelly is not so much the scandals that have rocked the Catholic Church of late but where does the Church as a community and a public entity need to go from here on these issues That discussion as intimate as it is related to some very public features of the Church has a context the history of a Church badly in need of structural reform If the sentiments of the faithful and the desire to make the community of the Church more in deed what it claims in words the reach of those changes is as profound as it is extensive Effective reform of an historical community like the Roman Catholic Church will not happen without a deep grasp of the history of forms in need of reformation That is the focus of Chris Geraghty's contribution to this collection Probing the spirit and reforming the body are for a purpose mission That mission is conditioned by the challenges of the context in which it is exercised That is the focus of Frank Brennan's contribution as he assesses the challenges and proposes some fresh approaches to meeting them Because there have been so many formulaic and essentially unengaged responses to contemporary issues in and beyond the Church the transformation needed in attitude and practical proposals to handle them is vast

Chemist and Druggist, 1869 Catholicism John T. McGreevy, 2022-09-06 A magisterial history of the centuries-long conflict between progress and tradition in the world's largest international institution. The story of Roman Catholicism has never followed a singular path. In no time period has this been more true than over the last two centuries. Beginning with the French Revolution, extending to the Second Vatican Council in the 1960s and concluding with present-day crises, John T. McGreevy chronicles the dramatic upheavals and internal divisions shaping the most multicultural, multilingual, and global institution in the world. Through powerful individual stories and sweeping bird's-eye views, Catholicism provides a mesmerizing assessment of the Church's complex role in modern history, both shaper and follower of the politics of nation-states, both conservator of hierarchies and evangelizer of egalitarianism. McGreevy documents the hopes and ambitions of European missionaries building churches and schools in all corners of the world; African Catholics fighting for political and religious independence; Latin American Catholics attracted to a theology of liberation; and Polish and South Korean Catholics demanding democratic governments. He includes a vast cast of riveting characters, known and unknown, including the Mexican revolutionary Fr. Servando Teresa de Mier, Daniel O'Connell, hero of Irish emancipation; Sr. Josephine Bakhita, a formerly enslaved Sudanese nun; Chinese statesman Ma Xiaobang; French philosopher and reformer Jacques Maritain; German Jewish philosopher and convert Edith Stein; John Paul II, Polish pope and opponent of communism; Gustavo Gutiérrez, Peruvian founder of liberation theology; and French American patron of modern art, Dominique de Menil. Throughout this essential volume, McGreevy details currents of reform within the Church, as well as movements protective of traditional customs and beliefs. Conflicts with political leaders and a devotional revival in the nineteenth century, the experiences of decolonization after World War II, and the Second Vatican Council in the twentieth century, and the trauma of clerical sexual abuse in the twenty-first all demonstrate how religion shapes our modern world. Finally, McGreevy addresses the challenges faced by Pope Francis as he struggles to unite the over one billion members of the world's largest religious community. History and General Description of New France Pierre-François-Xavier de Charlevoix, 1866
