New approaches in early cancer diagnosis and treatment are introduced with extensive experimental results. In particular some novel materials have been synthesized with new properties that are most effective in cancer therapy. Some of the key issues are also addressed with these recent discoveries such as bio safety and bio degradability that are essential in the success of nano medicine. An important aspect of this book is the introduction of nanotechnology to the medical communities that are searching for new treatments of cancer therefore breaking barriers between the physical and medical sciences so that more MDs will be able to appreciate the new discoveries and establishments in medical diagnoses and therapies capable of tackling major clinical issues.

microRNA Regulation in Health and Disease Clifford J. Steer, Subbaya Subramanian, 2020-02-21 MicroRNAs miRNAs are small regulatory RNAs that play a crucial role in posttranscriptional gene regulation. Over two thousand miRNAs have been identified in humans and many of them are conserved in other species. miRNAs are implicated in fundamental cellular functions including development and disease. In the last decade there has been an overwhelming amount of data contributing to the understanding of miRNA biogenesis and their target genes. Moreover a significant amount of work has been carried out in developing miRNA biomarkers and therapeutics for various disease conditions. RNA based markers and therapeutics have been proven to have a clinical impact and many of these miRNA based therapies are at various stages of human clinical trials and clinical applications. Notably miRNAs are also found in exosomes and are considered to impart intercellular communication and function via several different modalities including tunneling nanotubes. In spite of our understanding of miRNA biology and function there are many challenges in effectively using miRNAs as biomarkers and therapeutic agents in clinical applications. In this Special Issue we are inviting reviews perspectives and original research articles to address some of these challenges. Topics will include but are not limited to miRNA biogenesis clinical applications extracellular function biomarkers miRNA immune regulation signaling pathways and preclinical models.
