New World New Mind Moving Toward Conscious Evolution:

New World New Mind Robert Evan Ornstein, Paul R. Ehrlich, 2000 There is no longer sufficient time to rely on the normal pace of cultural evolution to deal with today's dilemmas Human beings have always been the most adaptable creatures on the planet and they should be able to chart a new course for themselves Some of that charting is already being done The old mind today is being challenged and changed by many scattered efforts Can we bring these efforts together to produce a large scale program for a rapid change of mind We know what the problem is The solution is not simple to generate the social and political will to move a program of conscious evolution to the top of the human agenda New World, New Mind Robert Evan Ornstein, Paul R. Ehrlich, 1989 The Making of the New Spirituality James A. Herrick, 2004-12-02 James A Herrick offers an intellectual history of the New Religious Synthesis examining the challenges it poses to Judeo Christian tradition demonstrating its sources and manifestations in contemporary culture and questioning its acceptance in church and society Future Survey Annual 1991 Michael Marien, 1991-01-01 Desire, Darkness, and Hope Laurie Cassidy, M. Shawn Copeland, 2021-05-15 For some decades the work of Carmelite theologian Constance FitzGerald OCD has been a well known secret not only among students and practitioners of Carmelite spirituality but also among spiritual directors spiritual writers retreatants vowed religious women and men and Christian theologians This collection sets out to introduce the work of Sister Constance to a wider and more diverse audience women and men who seek to strengthen themselves on the spiritual journey who yearn to deepen personal or scholarly theological and religious reflection and who want to make sense of the times in which we live To this end this volume curates seven of Sister Constance's articles with probing and responsive essays written by ten theologians Contributors include Susie Paulik Babka Colette Ackerman OCD Roberto S Goizueta Margaret R Pfeil Alex Milkulich Andrew Prevot Laurie Cassidy Maria Teresa Morgan Bryan N Massingale M Catherine Hilkert OP Ulu B. Williams, 2022-08-01 Stories examples parables metaphors and humor support the sixty three reflections on biblical texts from the Revised Common Lectionary The author uses a theme approach addressing issues and questions sometimes overlooked in preaching balancing private personal spirituality with the social and corporate Open minded and ecumenical in tone ULU reflects the theology of one firmly planted in the Wesleyan tradition where scripture tradition experience and reason insist upon openness to the new things that God is doing and where believers seek to work actively for the transformation of creation according to the values and the vision of the realm of God Twenty original monochrome photos by the author are distributed between chapters Progress and Apocalypse Christopher Lewis, 1991

Going Away to Think Scott Slovic, 2016-10-01 Scott Slovic has spent his life as a teacher writer environmental activist and leader in the field of ecocritical literary studies In Going Away to Think he reflects on the twin motivations of his life the commitment to do some good in the world and the impulse to enjoy life and participate fully in its most intense moments and he examines the tension created by his efforts to balance these two poles of his responsibility These essays reveal the complex inner life of one of this generation's most important environmental critics and literary activists. They range from profound discussions of the role and responsibilities of scholarship to deeply personal ruminations on the impact of family crises and the influence of his wide ranging travels.

Social Research at Seventy Arien Mack, 2004 To celebrate seventy years in publication Social Research has collected some of the best papers that appeared in the journal since its fiftieth anniversary issue in 1984. Such luminaries as Hannah Arendt, Amartya Sen, Michael Walzer, Judith Shklar, and John Hollander represent the vast array of topics that Social Research has engaged with over the years. These articles illustrate Social Research's dedication to multidisciplinary thought with an international focus and its ability to bring philosophy to life through its dialogue with the social sciences.

Awakening Earth Duane Elgin, 1993 Just as there are relatively distinct stages that characterize the development of an individual from infancy to early adulthood, so too are there discernible stages in the development of our species as we move toward a planetary scale civilization. Awakening Earth brings together views from science and spirituality, East and West, the practical and the visionary to present a compelling new picture of human evolution. Based upon twenty years of research, this book explores the human journey from the initial awakening of hunter-gatherers roughly 35,000 years ago through the agrarian era and Industrial Revolution and then goes on to describe three additional stages of development essential for realizing our initial maturity as a global species civilization. A disoriented world civilization faced with dwindling resources, mounting pollution, and exploding population is a recipe for ecological collapse and social anarchy. It is imperative that the human family begin to make rapid and profound changes in how we live together on the Earth. To accomplish this, we must now ask ourselves fundamental questions: Who are we? What are we doing here? Where are we going as a species? Awakening Earth provides a catalyst for this conversation with its integrative vision and inspiring map of the journey toward a sustainable, compassionate, and creative future. While not predicting a sudden new age of social enlightenment, Awakening Earth does present the promising view that humanity is roughly halfway through seven major transformations in culture and consciousness required to build a planetary civilization that can endure into the deep future.

Dancing at the Dead Sea Alanna Mitchell, 2004

Dancing at the Dead Sea is a powerful narrative on the critically important topic of the world's environmental hotspots. This is not a pessimistic tirade but instead a factual commentary that will convince many. Written by a gifted writer with an independent mind, I recommend this book without reservation. Richard Leakey, Alanna Mitchell, winner of the Global Reuters IUCN media award for excellence in environmental reporting, embarks on an incredible worldwide cultural and environmental odyssey, zeroing in on environmental hotspots and examining how we can live even flourish without destroying the planet. One hundred and fifty years after the publication of The Origin of Species, Mitchell retraces the development of evolutionary theory grappling with Richard Leakey's contention that the extinction of the human species is well under way. How and why are we human beings shortening our time on Earth? Travelling to the last living Eden, Madagascar, Mitchell is witness to the destruction of all but 10 percent of the original forest, not due to industrial activity but woodcutting by a primitive society still dependent on fire as its main energy resource. She then moves on to the badlands of Alberta where she draws on the theory of world famous paleontologist Philip Currie and the extinction of dinosaurs to gain insight on humanity's own impending suicide. Travel to the Azraq Oasis in Jordan, the meeting place of Africa, Asia and Europe, the mythical Galapagos Islands seemingly unspoiled but not immune to degradation, the far north and the Arctic desert of Banks Island, one of the first places on Earth where climate change with global impact is visible. Like the work of Wade Davis or books such as Krakatoa by Simon Winchester and Four Wings and a Prayer by Sue Halpern, Dancing at the Dead Sea intertwines scientific theory with travel adventure and history, creating a dramatic, fresh narrative voice examining not the origin but the ultimate fate of the human species. April 2004

Bio Logic David Wann, 1994. Well reasoned approach to raising our collective environmental consciousness. Its premise is that we must all consider the environmental consequences of our individual and community actions. The Population Explosion Paul R. Ehrlich, Anne H. Ehrlich, 1991. From global warming to rain forest destruction, famine and air and water pollution, why overpopulation is our #1 environmental problem. Jacket subtitle: The Greenhouse Trap Francesca Lyman, 1990. The latest facts on climate change, the trouble with everyday energy use, 8 steps toward climate stability and how you can get involved.

Handbook of Research on Teacher Education W. Robert Houston, Martin Haberman, John P. Sikula, 1990. A World of Wounds Paul R. Ehrlich, 1997. The American Biology Teacher, 1994. La Educación, 1990. Green Delusions Martin W. Lewis, 1992. Scholars, politicians and activists worldwide are finally recognizing the severity of the global environmental crisis, yet serious threats to the environmental movement remain. Anti environmentalists dismiss the very idea of a crisis as a mirage. Much less obvious, however, is the more subtle threat masquerading under the mantle of environmentalism itself. It is this threat that Green Delusions addresses. Writing from the standpoint of a committed environmentalist, Martin W. Lewis contends that many of the most devoted and strident greens, those who propose a radical environmentalism, unwittingly espouse an ill conceived doctrine that has devastating implications for the global ecosystem. In this book he distinguishes the main variants of eco extremism, exposes the fallacies upon which such views ultimately flounder and demonstrates that the policies advocated by their proponents would, if enacted, result in unequivocal ecological catastrophe. Lewis describes an environmental community deeply divided by conflicting visions of a sustainable future economy. The agenda proposed by eco extremists, based on local economic self sufficiency, a shunning of market exchange and a general retreat from advanced technology, aims at a thoroughgoing reinvention of all social and economic forms. In this program, Lewis identifies the potential for monumental disruption and complete political alienation, an undermining of the very foundations on which a new and ecologically sane economic order must be built. Instead, he argues, we must move forward into the solar age, an age that will require more investment in our technological infrastructure as well as the retention of a globally integrated economy. Furthermore, in order to advance the reforms needed to change our present course, environmentalism must avoid divisive radical philosophies and try to create a broad-ranging consensus. Green Delusions, at once polemic and prescriptive, is an impassioned attempt to defend the environmental movement against extremist ideas that would lead to self-defeating political strategies and would prevent society from making the reforms it so desperately needs.
