Newsthinking The Secret Of Making Your Facts Fall Into Place:

MediaWriting W. Richard Whitaker, Ronald D. Smith, Janet E. Ramsey, 2013-03-01 MediaWriting is an introductory hands on textbook for students preparing to write in the current multimedia environment. Rather than just talk about the differences among the styles of print, broadcast and public relations, MediaWriting synthesizes and integrates them while weaving in basic principles of Internet writing and social media reporting. Complete with real world examples, practical writing exercises and tips and information for entering into the profession, MediaWriting continues to give students the tools they need to become a successful media writer. The new edition has been extensively rewritten to reflect the dynamic nature of the profession, paying significant attention to how the Internet and social media have become essential communication tools for print and broadcast journalists and public relations professionals. Further updates and features include: Increased attention to computer assisted reporting, the preparation of online copy and social media applications; Two new chapters on lead writing and new media; A separate chapter focused solely on ethics; Explanatory boxes that help students understand and retain main themes; Illustrative "It Happened to Me" vignettes from the authors' professional experiences; Discussion questions and exercises at the end of every chapter; Suggested readings that highlight biographies, books and websites that expand the scope and definition of professionalism. In addition to new multimedia elements, the fourth edition's companion website features enhanced resources for both students and instructors, including chapter overviews, writing tips, a test bank, sample critiques and a sample syllabus.

An Introduction to Writing for Electronic Media Robert B. Musburger, PhD, 2012-09-10
Wonderfully practical just what every media writer needs. Christopher H. Sterling, George Washington University. Learn what it takes to write for commercials, news, documentaries, corporate, educational, animation, games, the internet and dramatic film, video productions. Outlines the key skills needed for a successful media writing career. The demand for quality and knowledgeable multi-platform writing is always in high demand. An Introduction to Writing for Electronic Media presents a survey of the many types of electronic media you can write for and explains how to do it. Musburger focuses on the skills you need to write for animation versus radio or television news versus corporate training. Sample scripts help you learn by example while modeling your own scripts. Production files illustrate the integral role writers play in the production process and individual movie frames allow you compare these to the real scripts. Armed with the skills developed in this book, a media writer can apply for a variety of positions in newsrooms, advertising firms, motion pictures or animation studios, as well as local and national cable operations. Robert B. Musburger, PhD is Professor Emeritus and former Director of the School of Communication, University of Houston, USA. He has worked for 20 years in professional broadcasting, serving as camera operator, director, producer and writer. Musburger has received numerous awards for his video work and teaching and he continues to work in electronic media with his Seattle, WA consulting firm, Musburger Media Services. An authoritative and clearly written description of the processes involved in writing for film, radio and television production. Raymond Fielding
