HANGMAN My Experiences as an Executioner H Snowden Ward, James Berry, 2020-12-06 You have in your hands the memoir of James Berry 1852-1913 the first truly literate hangman and the first to write about his position Mr Berry's occupation was not by any means taken up from a love of the ghastly or any pleasure in the work Even in his business as executioner his soft-heartedness has shown itself for though it has never caused him to flinch on the scaffold it has led him to study most carefully the science of his subject and to take great pains to make death painless A fascinating aspect of the book are Berry's recollections of notable executions and criminals his discussions of their crimes and analysis of their demeanors at trial and death Included is a chapter of his opinions on various execution methods used around the world with his conclusion that the British long drop hanging method was the most humane and a chapter on hanging from a business point of view The writings are peppered throughout with his views on the moral and social implications of capital punishment This book is a sensitive and thoughtful account of what Berry himself admitted was a troubling profession

The Executioner's Tale Ginny Stroud, 2014-09-28 The Executioner's Tale is a vigilante plot with a twist justice is in the shape of a female pensioner a reluctant one at that who is accidentally drawn into the role of executioner I believe most people have considered murder at one time or other in their lives Some actually go so far as imagining the act A very few put their fantasies into action An accident made me one of that number This is the fictionalised autobiography of a serial killer or as she would see herself an instrument of justice The first death is accidental when she confronts the husband of her neighbour a notorious wife beater But at this point she realises that her age rather than being a negative is actually a positive No one would look at an older woman with suspicion in fact most people barely notice the elderly at all So begins her new career I m not a monster I am someone who crossed a line and chose not to step back One of the significant factors is her loss of faith but in its place she adopts the utilitarian principle of the greatest good All the victims are to her mind worthy of removal and range from murderous nurses to paedophiles and drug dealers In fact every killing is made to protect or save the vulnerable Our anonymous subject sees that the courts so often do not or cannot provide this justice and believes in the Old Testament ideal of an eye for an eye or at least a punishment to fit the crime The Executioner s Tale is a gripping refreshingly original crime novel whose heroine Ginny dubs a modern Miss Marple who goes beyond detection to judge and executioner The English Catalogue of Books [annual] ,1892 Vols for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers Novel dishes for vegetarian households Mary Pope (theosophist.),1893 Execution Culture in Nineteenth Century Britain Patrick Low,Helen Rutherford,Clare Sandford-Couch,2020-11-29 This edited collection offers multi disciplinary reflections and analysis on a variety of themes centred on nineteenth century executions in the UK many specifically related to the fundamental change in capital punishment culture as the execution moved from the public arena to behind the prison wall By examining a period of dramatic change in punishment practice this collection of essays provides a fresh historical perspective on nineteenth century execution culture with a focus on Scotland Wales and the regions of England From Public Spectacle to Hidden Ritual has two parts Part 1 addresses the criminal body and the witnessing of executions in the nineteenth century including studies of the execution crowd and executioners memoirs as well as reflections on the experience of narratives around capital punishment in museums in the present day Part 2 explores the treatment of the execution experience in the print media from the nineteenth and into the twentieth century The collection draws together contributions from the fields of Heritage and Museum Studies History Law Legal History and Literary Studies to shed new light on execution culture in nineteenth century Britain This volume will be of interest to students and academics in the fields of criminology heritage and museum studies history law legal history medical humanities and socio legal studies The Literary World ,1892 Yorkshire County Magazine Joseph Horsfall Turner,1892 Executioners Packages,2000-05-24 This book investigates the history of capital punishment across the world and the fascinating lives and careers of the people who are employed to deliver the ultimate penalty Commonweal Confronts the Century Patrick Jordan,Paul Baumann,1999-11-12 Publisher Description Judicial Review of the Death Penalty David Pannick,1982 Good No Highlights No Markup all pages are intact Slight Shelfwear may have the corners slightly dented may have slight color changes slightly damaged spine A Handbook on Hanging Charles Duff,1981 The birds, wild flowers, ferns, mosses & grasses of North Wales Darlington and co,1895

Capital Punishment in the Twentieth Century Eric Roy Calvert,1927 The Trial of Jack the Ripper Euan

Macpherson,2005 The police investigation uncovered some disturbing details The accused was a small dark haired man who was known to have been violent towards women He had been born and brought up in the Midlands but had moved to the East End of London in the late autumn of 1887 On 21 January 1889 he and his wife travelled by boat to Dundee This meant that he had arrived in London before the start of the Jack the Ripper murders and had left around the same time that they ceased Could this be coincidence people wondered Could it also be a coincidence that the murder in Dundee carried all the hallmarks of a ripper murder In the month before the trial the local newspapers in Dundee began to run sensational stories linking the accused with the notorious Whitechapel murders When the trial opened to a packed courtroom many in the public gallery were wondering if the man standing in the dock was none other than Jack the Ripper himself In this sensational and groundbreaking book Euan Macpherson presents the evidence that the long arm of the law really did catch up with Jack the Ripper in a dingy basement flat in Dundee in the cold winter months of early 1889 The Publishers' Trade List Annual,1972
