Myanmar's Transition Nick Cheesman, Monique Skidmore, Trevor Wilson, 2012 With the world watching closely Myanmar began a process of political administrative and institutional transition from 30 January 2011 After convening the parliament elected in November 2010 the former military regime transferred power to a new government headed by former Prime Minister and retired general U Thein Sein With parliamentary processes restored in Myanmar's new capital of Naypyitaw Thein Sein's government announced a wide ranging reform agenda and began releasing political prisoners and easing press censorship Pivotal meetings between Thein Sein and Aung San Suu Kyi led to amendment of the Election Law and the National League for Democracy contesting by elections in April 2012 The 2011 Myanmar Burma update conference considered the openings offered by these political changes and media reforms and the potential opportunities for international assistance Obstacles covered include impediments to the rule of law the continuation of human rights abuses the impunity of the Army and the failure to end ethnic insurgency

Myanmar's Digital Coup Nicholas Coppel, Lennon Y.C. Chang, 2024-07-23 This book analyses how technologies have been used by both the military junta and resistance movement in Myanmar's digital coup to control information and the transfer of funds and to pursue accountability They have been used to pressure and mobilise external actors and the book critically assesses international responses ranging from the United Nations ASEAN individual countries activist groups donors and international businesses Contact with the military has been criticised as recognising and legitimising the regime and individual firms have come under pressure to exit The authors argue that the National Unity Government overestimates the significance of foreign recognition and activists overestimate the influence of international responses on military behaviour They suggest external actors change from judging and excoriating the responses of the international community and focus on how foreign governments businesses or organisations can support and strengthen Myanmar society If change in Myanmar is to come it will be those that have remained not those that have left that will bring it about

International Pressures, Strategic Preference, and Myanmar's China Policy since 1988 Nian Peng, 2020-09-08 This book mainly explored the driving forces and evolution of Myanmar's China policy since 1988 by adopting a neo classical realist approach an emerging theoretical paradigm aiming at analyzing state's foreign behaviour by connecting systemic and unit variables which refers to external environments and domestic restraints respectively It is the first book that seeks to give a theoretical explanation of Myanmar's diplomacy thereby bridging the gap from basic research to the deep one with theories It also introduced the concept of strategic preference and argued that the competing strategic preference that the Burmese leaders have namely integration and isolation determines Myanmar's responses to China in the Post Cold War era which not only demonstrates the neo classical realism as an useful instrument of looking into state s foreign policy and deepens the understanding on Myanmar China relations The main content of this book is divided into seven parts in which the first chapter introduces the background the present study on Myanmar s China policy and China s Myanmar policy the analytical framework and the arrangement of the content Chapter 2 focuses on the roots and changes of Myanmar s competing strategic preference as well as its influences on Myanmar s foreign policy The following four chapters examine the international pressures and benefits imposed by systemic imperatives and Burmese leaders specific strategic preference since 1988 and investigate Myanmar s policy towards China in different periods Finally it provides a comprehensive conclusion that outlines and reviews the origins and evolution of Myanmar s China policy and predicts its future directions This book is suitable for the graduates and experts who are interested in international relations the Asian studies and neo classical realism in particular and Myanmar politics and foreign relations as well as China s relation with neighboring countries
