Bernheim,2018-05-15 News from Nowhere, Or an Epoch of Rest William Morris,1977 News from Nowhere William Morris,2017-10-18 Excerpt from News From Nowhere Or an Epoch of Rest Being Some Chapters From an Utopian Romance As he formed the words the train stopped at his station five minutes walk from his own house which stood on the banks Of the Thames a little way above an ugly suspension bridge He went out of the station still discontented and unhappy muttering If I could but see it if I could but see it But had not gone many steps towards the river before says our friend who tells the story all that discontent and trouble seemed to slip off him About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

News from Nowhere Or an Epoch of Rest, Being Some Chapters from a Utopian Romance William Morris, 2017-02-09 News from Nowhere 1890 is a classic work combining utopian socialism and soft science fiction written by the artist designer and socialist pioneer William Morris In the book the narrator falls asleep after returning from a meeting of the Socialist League and awakes to find himself in a future society based on common ownership and democratic control of the means of production The remainder of the book explores a number of aspects of this society including its organisation and the relationships which it engenders between people The book offers Morris answers to a number of frequent objections to socialism and underlines his belief that socialism will entail not only the abolishment of private property but also of the divisions between art life and work

The Return of Nature John Bellamy Foster, 2021-06-01 Winner 2020 Isaac and Tamara Deutscher Memorial Prize A fascinating reinterpretation of the radical and socialist origins of ecology Twenty years ago John Bellamy Foster's Marx's Ecology Materialism and Nature introduced a new understanding of Karl Marx's revolutionary ecological materialism More than simply a study of Marx it commenced an intellectual and social history encompassing thinkers from Epicurus to Darwin who developed materialist and ecological ideas Now with The Return of Nature Socialism and Ecology Foster continues this narrative In so doing he uncovers a long history of the efforts to unite questions of social justice and environmental sustainability and helps us comprehend and counter today's unprecedented planetary emergencies The Return of Nature begins with the deaths of Darwin 1882 and Marx 1883 and moves on until the rise of the ecological age in the 1960s and 1970s Foster explores how socialist analysts and materialist scientists of various stamps first in Britain then the United States from William Morris and Frederick Engels to Joseph Needham Rachel Carson and Stephen J Gould sought to develop a dialectical naturalism rooted in a critique of capitalism In the process he delivers a far reaching and fascinating reinterpretation of the radical and socialist origins of ecology Ultimately what this book asks for is nothing short of revolution a long ecological revolution aimed at making peace with the planet while meeting collective human needs

NEWS FROM NOWHERE William Morris, 2010-11 News From Nowhere or An Epoch of Rest Being Some Chapters From a Utopian Romance by William Morris Chapter 1 Discussion and Bed Up at the League says a friend there had been one night a brisk conversational discussion as to what would happen on the Morrow of the Revolution finally shading off into a vigorous statement by various friends of their views on the future of the fully developed new society Says our friend Considering the subject the discussion was good tempered for those present being used to public meetings and after lecture debates if they did not listen to each others opinions which could hardly be expected of them at all events did not always attempt to speak all together as is the custom of people in ordinary polite society when conversing on a subject which interests them For the rest there were six persons present and consequently six sections of the party were represented four of which had strong but divergent Anarchist opinions One of the sections says our friend a man whom he knows very well indeed sat almost silent at the beginning of the discussion but at last got drawn into it and finished by roaring out very loud and damning all the rest for fools after which befell a period of noise and then a lull during which the aforesaid section having said good night very amicably took his way home by himself to a western suburb using the means of travelling which civilisation has forced upon us like a habit As he sat in that vapour bath of hurried and discontented humanity a carriage of the underground railway he like others stewed discontentedly while in self reproachful mood he turned over the many excellent and conclusive arguments which though they lay at his fingers ends he had forgotten in the just past discussion But this frame of mind he was so used to that it didn't last him long and after a brief discomfort caused by disgust with himself for having lost his temper which he was also well used to he found himself musing on the subject matter of discussion but still discontentedly and unhappily If I could but see it As he formed the words the train stopped at his station five minutes walk from his own house which stood on the banks of the Thames a little way above an ugly suspension bridge He went out of the station still discontented and unhappy muttering If I could but see it if I could but see it but had not gone many steps toward the river before says our friend who tells the story all that discontent and trouble seemed to slip off him It was a beautiful night of early winter the air just sharp enough to be refreshing after the hot room and the stinking railway carriage The wind which had lately turned a point or two north of west had blown the sky clear of all cloud save a light fleck of two which went swiftly down the heavens There was a young moon halfway up the sky and as the home farer caught sight of it tangled in the branches of a tall old elm he could scarce bring to his mind the shabby London suburb where he was and he felt as if he were in a pleasant country place pleasanter indeed than the deep country was as he had known it He came right down to the river side and lingered a little looking over the low wall to note the moon lit river near upon high water go swirling and glittering up to Cheswick Eyot as for the ugly bridge below he did not notice it or think of it except when for a moment says our friend it stuck him that he missed the row of lights down stream Then he turned to his house door and let himself in and even as he shut the door to disappeared all remembrance of that brilliant logic and foresight which had so illuminated the recent discussion and of the discussion itself there remained no trace save a vague hope that was now become a pleasure for days of peace and rest and cleanness and smiling goodwill In this mood he tumbled into bed and fell asleep after his wont in two minutes time but contrary to his wont woke up again not long after in that curiously wide awake condition which sometimes surprises even good sleepers a condition under which we feel all our wits preternaturally sharpened while all the miserable muddles we have ever got into all the disgraces and losses of our lives will insist on thrusting themselves forward for the consideration of those sharpened wits In this state he lay says our friend till he had almost begun to enjoy it till the tale of his stupidities amused him and the entanglements before him which he saw so clearly began to shape themselves into an amusing story for him He heard one o'clock strike then two and then three after which he fell asleep again Our friend says that from that sleep he awoke once more and afterwards went through such surprising adventures that he thinks that they should be told to our comrades and indeed the public in general and therefore he proposes to tell them now But says he I think it would be better if I told them in the first person as if it were myself who had gone through them which indeed will be the easier and more natural to me since I understand the feeling and desires of the comrade of whom I am telling better than any one else in the world does News from Nowhere Or An Epoch of Rest, Being Some Chapters from A Utopian Romance (1890) . William

Morris, 2019-11-23 News from Nowhere 1890 is a classic work combining utopian socialism and soft science fiction written by the artist designer and socialist pioneer William Morris It was first published in serial form in the Commonweal journal beginning on 11 January 1890 In the novel the narrator William Guest falls asleep after returning from a meeting of the Socialist League and awakes to find himself in a future society based on common ownership and democratic control of the means of production In this society there is no private property no big cities no authority no monetary system no divorce no courts no prisons and no class systems This agrarian society functions simply because the people find pleasure in nature and therefore they find pleasure in their work The novel explores a number of aspects of this society including its organisation and the relationships which it engenders between people Morris fuses Marxism and the romance tradition when he presents himself as an enchanted figure in a time and place different from Victorian England As Morris the romance character quests for love and fellowship and through them for a reborn self he encounters romance archetypes in Marxist guises Old Hammond is both the communist educator who teaches Morris the new world and the wise old man of romance Dick and Clara are good comrades and the married lovers who aid Morris in his wanderings The journey on the Thames is both a voyage through society transformed by revolution and a quest for happiness The goal of the quest met and found though only transiently is Ellen the symbol of the reborn age and the bride the alien cannot win Ellen herself is a multidimensional figure a working class woman emancipated under socialism she is also a benign nature spirit as well as the soul in the form of a woman 1 The book offers Morris answers to a number of frequent objections to socialism and underlines his belief that socialism will entail not only the abolishment of private property but also of the divisions between art life and work News from Nowhere An Epoch of Rest William Morris, 2019-05-15 One of the most literary and readable of utopian novels News from Nowhere chronicles the impressions of a nineteenth century visitor to the twenty second century who finds England transformed into a socialist paradise Morris idyllic society echoes themes from the writings of Ruskin and Marx but forms a distinctive expression of the author's own egalitarian views A distillation of Morris mature reflections on politics art and society this work was regarded as an exercise in sentimentality upon its publication Modern readers however are likely to find resonance in its critique of state socialism and its proposals for an alternative society
