Objects Of Knowledge New Research In Museum Studies:

Objects of Knowledge Susan Pearce, 2010-07-15 Volume 1 in a series designed to act as a forum for the dissemination and discussion of new research currently being undertaken in the field of Museum Studies The series aims to cover the whole museum field and to broadly address the history and operation of the museum as a cultural phenomenon The papers published are of a high academic standard and are also intended to relate directly to matters of immediate museum concern The publication aims to fill a major gap in the present scope of museum based literature This volume is concerned with the ways in which meaning is created through museum objects and the processes which this involves The papers however adopt a wide diversity of stances ranging widely across the field some take a broadly theoretical line and others examine specific areas like museum education and the relationship of museums to native peoples The volume concludes with a Review Section covering recent books exhibitions and conferences

Nature and culture Samuel J. M. M. Alberti, 2017-10-03 This is a vital new work the first to take the University of Manchester's Museum as its subject By setting the museum in its cultural and intellectual contexts Nature and culture explores twentieth century collecting and display and the status of the object in the modern world Beginning with the origins of the Manchester Museum accounting for its development as an internationally renowned university museum and concluding at its major expansion at the turn of the millennium this book casts new light on the history of museums How did objects become knowledge Who encountered museum objects on their way to museums What happened to collections within the museum How did visitors use and respond to objects In answering these questions Nature and culture illuminates not only the history of one institution but also contributes to wider discussions in the history of science cultural history and museology

Handbook of Material

Culture Chris Tilley, Webb Keane, Susanne Kuechler, Mike Rowlands, Patricia Spyer, 2006-01-05 The study of material culture is concerned with the relationship between persons and things in the past and in the present in urban and industrialized and in small scale societies across the globe The Handbook of Material Culture provides a critical survey of the theories concepts intellectual debates substantive domains and traditions of study characterizing the analysis of things It is cutting edge rather than simply reviewing the field as it currently exists It also attempts to chart the future the manner in which material culture studies may be extended and developed The Handbook of Material Culture is divided into five sections Section I maps material culture studies as a theoretical and conceptual field Section II examines the relationship between material forms the human body and the senses Section III focuses on subject object relations Section IV considers things in terms of processes and transformations in terms of production exchange and consumption performance and the significance of things over the long term Section V considers the contemporary politics and poetics of displaying representing and conserving material and the manner in which this impacts on notions of heritage tradition and identity The Handbook charts an interdisciplinary field of studies that makes a unique and fundamental contribution to an understanding of what it means to be human It will be of interest to all who work in the social and historical sciences from anthropologists and archaeologists to human geographers to scholars working in heritage design and cultural studies

Making Early Histories in Museums Nick Merriman, 1999 This text examines the debate about interpretation and making history in the context of archaeological museums the reliance of those working on the early periods of the past on the fragmentary information provided by archaeology as well as an imperfect documentary record brings its own interpretative challenges While much has been written in the context of archaeological theory about the partiality and subjectivity of archaeologists interpretations of the past less has been written about the implications of this for the interpretations of archaeology by a non specialist audience in museums As a result the past presented in archaeological museums has tended to follow a traditional and uncritical model Subject Access to Museum Objects Steven Blake Shubert, 1996 A Cabinet of Curiosities Stephen E. Weil, 1995 Weil argues that museums especially art museums need to concentrate on purpose more than technique or process Poetry in the Museums of Modernism Catherine Elizabeth Paul, 1998 From Sites of Memory to Cybersights Ingrid Gessner, 2007 This interdisciplinary study explores the legacies of Japanese American World War II internment experiences and the factors influencing the construction and mediation of cultural memory and national ethnic identity in the United States It discusses issues of contested memory and shows how once repressed historic events are selectively commemorated or even erased By focusing on representations of Japanese American internment experiences recovered reframed or created since the 1980s the study acknowledges that these experiences continue to be reevaluated in a climate of ethnic politicization Covering sites of memory ranging from historic places of Japanese American internment to memorials built both at centers of Japanese American cultural life as well as at centers of national cultural identity the study also critically approaches sites or rather sights in cyberspace that may be visited only virtually thus taking the scholarship of American memory studies into the digital realm Vernacular Architecture Newsletter ,1994 Journal of the American Society for Information Science

American Society for Information Science,1997 A Bibliography for History, History Curatorship, and Museums

Gaynor Kavanagh,1996 The Bibliography is a vital guide to literature sources on history making within the personal and public domains with specific reference to history museums and collections It begins with an essay in which history making in museums through collections exhibitions and interpretative work is considered in relation to social trends and popular interest The essay charts some of the dominant characteristics of museum provision The central section of the book is a detailed bibliography concluding with reviews of those works which are particularly recommended The Museum Studies Journal ,1987 MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures ,1994

Unlocking Museums Museums Australia. National Conference,1997 Curating Lively Objects Lizzie Muller,Caroline Seck Langill,2021-09-06 Curating Lively Objects explores the role of things as catalysts in imagining futures beyond disciplines for museums and exhibitions Authors describe how their curatorial collaborations with diverse objects from rocks to robots generate new ways of organising and sharing knowledge Bringing together leading artists and curators from Australia and Canada this volume addresses object liveliness from a range of entwined perspectives including new materialism decolonial thinking Indigenous epistemologies environmentalism feminist critique and digital aesthetics Foregrounding practice based curatorial scholarship the book focuses on rigorous reflexive accounts of how curating is done It contributes to global topics in curatorial research including time and memory beyond and before disciplinarity the relationship between human and non human across different ontologies and the interaction between Indigenous knowledge and disciplinary expertise in interpreting museum collections Curating Lively Objects will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of curatorial studies museum studies cultural heritage art history Indigenous studies material culture and anthropology It also provides a vital resource for professionals working in museums and galleries around the world who are seeking to respond creatively ethically and inclusively to the challenge of changing disciplinary boundaries Social Organization and Cultural Aesthetics William H. Davenport,1997 Seven essays from a 1992 conference in San Francisco deal mostly with relatively traditional issues in anthropology with a consistent focus on kinship and on Oceania The topics include women in missionary ventures in Hawaii during the 19th and 20th centuries empowered women exchanging sisters traditional issues in the study of modernity Dou Donggo wedding receptions as cultural critique and affect and paradox in museum exhibits No index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
