Environment, Society and Natural Resource Management Geoffrey Lawrence, Vaughan Higgins, Stewart Lockie, 2001 As greater significance is placed on the relationship between people and their environment it is increasingly acknowledged that few environmental problems can be solved without considering the social context in which they arise But what does it mean to incorporate the social and what types of social sciences are needed This incisive book critically reviews the theoretical perspectives that underlie social scientific contributions to natural resource management and argues for both a greater social science presence and for conceptual and methodological clarity within the social sciences themselves The expert contributors explore how new concepts and approaches can contribute positively to natural resource management They demonstrate how the social sciences can be used as a vehicle to highlight social concerns as well as to foster greater participation co operation and integration among community members natural resource managers and researchers Through detailed case studies from Australasia and the Americas the authors illustrate how different social science perspectives can be utilised The range and variety of views provide a basis for the evaluation of various and often competing disciplinary paradigms within the social sciences This book will undoubtedly contribute to a more sophisticated debate about the place of the social in environmental research It will prove to be of great worth to students and researchers of environmental and social issues to those involved in environmental decision making and community planning as well as environmental policymakers and natural resource managers Annual Review of Information Science & Technology Blaise Cronin,2006-10 ARIST published annually since 1966 is a landmark publication within the information science community It surveys the landscape of information science and technology providing an analytical authoritative and accessible overview of recent trends and significant developments The range of topics varies considerably reflecting the dynamism of the discipline and the diversity of theoretical and applied perspectives While ARIST continues to cover key topics associated with classical information science e g bibliometrics information retrieval editor Blaise Cronin is selectively expanding its footprint in an effort to connect information science more tightly with cognate academic and professional communities Back to the Future Daniel Pauly,Tony J.

Pitcher,David Preikshot,Jezrah Hearne,1998 The Body as Interface Sabine Sielke,Elisabeth Schäfer-Wünsche,2007 The body is a battleground As such it has been at the center of debates in cultural and gender studies for over two decades The concept of a culturally constructed gendered racialized and class contoured body which emerged from these debates is meanwhile being challenged though by an increasing impact of the life sciences Evolving from neurobiology molecular genetics and biotechnology are projections of a post or transhuman subject as well as new insights into our corporeality and the ways our bodies interrelate with the world Situating the body at an intersection of a range of discourses in the human social and natural sciences this collection of essays explores this fundamental shift by way of dialogues between disciplines in the course of which our sense of beauty and human nature memory and trauma immunity power and pain is being transformed Library Trends ,1996 First Person Squared Kami Day,Michele Eodice,2001 Throughout the book Day and Eodice interrupt themselves with reflections on their presuppositions about their research and on their own processes and challenges in writing this book First Person superscript 2 is a well centered volume that is disciplined and restrained in its research but is also layered and multivocal in presentation and ends with some provocative conclusions Jacket Beyond Lines of Control Ravina Aggarwal,2004-11-30 Ravina Aggarwal explores how the conflict over Kashmir between India Pakistan has affected the Buddhist Muslim communities of Ladakh part of Kashmir that lies high in the Himalayas
