Patents John V. Martin, 2002 The American patent system is designed to protect innovation and thus to make possible further innovation. The major problems surround the tradeoffs involved and whether the system is tilted at any given time more to industry or more to the public interest. Although in theory protection of industry's innovation would seem to be directly to the public's best interest this is not the case when industry uses the patent laws to charge exorbitant prices in the name of further innovation which becomes a catch all justification for whatever industry wants. Buchholz,2016-06-07 In this bold history and manifesto a former White House director of economic policy exposes the economic political and cultural cracks that wealthy nations face and makes the case for transforming those same vulnerabilities into sources of strength and the foundation of a national renewal America and other developed countries including Germany Japan France and Great Britain are in desperate straits The loss of community a contracting jobs market immigration fears rising globalization and poisonous partisanship the adverse price of unprecedented prosperity are pushing these nations to the brink Acclaimed author economist hedge fund manager and presidential advisor Todd G Buchholz argues that without a sense of common purpose and shared identity nations can collapse The signs are everywhere Reckless financial markets encourage people to gamble with other people s money A coddling educational culture removes the stigma of underachievement Community traditions such as American Legion cookouts and patriotic parades are derided as corny or jingoistic Newcomers are watched with suspicion and contempt As Buchholz makes clear the United States is not the first country to suffer these fissures In The Price of Prosperity he examines the fates of previous empires those that have fallen as well as those extricated from near collapse and the ruins of war thanks to the vision and efforts of strong leaders He then identifies what great leaders do to fend off the forces that tear nations apart Is the loss of empire inevitable No Can a community spirit be restored in the U S and in Europe The answer is a resounding yes We cannot retrieve the jobs of our grandparents but we can embrace uniquely American traditions while building new foundations for growth and change Buchholz offers a roadmap to recovery and calls for a revival of national pride and patriotism to help us come together once again to protect the nation and ensure our future Mediaweek ,2007 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004 Business 2.0 ,1999 Britannica Book of the Year ,2017
