

NFL School Program

A Typical Year in the NFL

The National Football League, commonly known as the NFL, is the United States top football American football competition. The league has during two years and is schedule usually last to 10 times hundred and seventy two games into every regular season. Some of these matches are now even played in other parts of the world, such as Mexico, the United Kingdom, Germany and South America. In order to keep the regular season running smoothly, games and dates take place throughout the year.

The Regular Season

Every year, a new season begins in September and ends in mid-month.

Planning for the next months when information is collected by schools students as early as the spring to help with not missing dates and fixtures.

Off the Dates?

Thousands of computers are used to create efficient schedules which below are a quick that make for many more.

Throughout the regular season, each team will play seventeen games, most of these will play on Sunday afternoons. Every NFL team will have one "bye week" before they don't play a game, instead in their schedule as players can rest and practice the same tactics.

The Playoffs

After winning the regular season matches are decided and followed by the play-offs, where the best teams take part in play-off and championship games, however, the league's highlight and its final game is Super Bowl, which usually takes place in February.
