Occidentalism

Occidentalism : Images of the West James G. Carrier, 1995-04-13 This is an investigation of Western cultural identity. It shows how people's images of themselves and others reflect the power that different groups in a society have to shape these images. The contributors describe these images in Western academic writing, popular Western culture, and societies outside the West in this counterpart to Edward Said's Orientalism. Occidentalism is an investigation of images of Western cultural identity. Edward Said's Orientalism revolutionized Western understanding of non-Western cultures by showing how Western projected images shaped the Occident of the Orient, but those who follow Said have not until now reflected that understanding back onto Western societies. Occidentalism shows how images of the West shape people's conceptions of themselves and others, and how these images are in turn shaped by members of Western and non-Western societies alike. The contributors describe and explicate these images in a variety of areas from Western academic writing to popular Western culture from societies within and outside the West to show how power and conflict shape such conceptions.

Occidentalism Couze Venn, 2000 This important book critically addresses the becoming West of Europe and investigates the becoming Modern of the world. Drawing on the work of Derrida, Foucault, Levinas, Lyotard, Merleau-Ponty, and Ricoeur, the book proposes that the question of postmodernity is inseparable from that of postcoloniality. The argument fully conveys the sense that modernity is in crisis. It maps out a new genealogy of the birth of the modern and suggests a new way of grounding the idea of an emancipation of being. Postcolonialism has emerged as a central topic in contemporary social science and cultural studies. This book informs readers as to the central strands of the debate and introduces a host of new ideas which will be a rich fund for further research.

Occidentalism Ian Buruma, Avishai Margalit, 2005 This investigation into the dreams and stereotypes of the Western world that fuel hatred in the hearts of Al Qaeda and its ilk argues that the origins of those dreams lie in the West itself. The anti-Western virus has found a ready host in the Islamic world for a number of reasons but it is not native there. The West that these jihadis imagine themselves fighting is the same menace that has haunted the thoughts of revolutionary groups since the early nineteenth century. Occidentalism identifies its main oppositions: the timid soft bourgeoisie versus the heroic revolutionary, the machine society versus the organically knit one of blood and soil, the sterile Western mind all reason and no soul versus the inner life of the spirit, and provides a new conceptual framework for understanding them as we must to face the world's most pressing issues.

BOOK JACKET Making England Western Saree Makdisi, 2024-05-31 The central argument of Edward Said's Orientalism is that the relationship between Britain and its colonies was primarily oppositional, based on contrasts between conquest abroad and domestic order at home. Saree Makdisi directly challenges that premise in Making England Western, identifying the convergence between the British Empire's civilizing mission abroad and a parallel mission within England itself and pointing to Romanticism as one of the key sites of resistance to the imperial culture in Britain after 1815. Makdisi argues that there existed places and populations in both England and the colonies that were thought of in similar terms for example there were sites in England that might as well have been Arabia and English people to whom the idea of the freeborn Englishman did not extend The boundaries between us and them began to take form during the Romantic period when England became a desirable Occidental space connected with but superior to distant lands Delving into the works of Wordsworth Austen Byron Dickens and others to trace an arc of celebration ambivalence and criticism influenced by these imperial dynamics Makdisi demonstrates the extent to which Romanticism offered both hopes for and warnings against future developments in Occidentalism Revealing that Romanticism provided a way to resist imperial logic about improvement and moral virtue Making England Western is an exciting contribution to the study of both British literature and colonialism

Occidentalist Perceptions of European Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Persian

Travel Diaries Vahid Vahdat,2017-03-31 In the midst of Europe's nineteenth century industrial revolution four men embarked on separate journeys to the wondrous Farangestan a land of fascinating objects mysterious technologies heavenly women and magical spaces Determined to learn the secret of Farangestan's advancements the travelers kept detailed records of their observations These diaries mapped an aspirational path to progress for curious Iranian audiences who were eager to change the course of history Two hundred years later Travels in Farangi Space unpacks these writings to reveal a challenging new interpretation of Iran's experience of modernity This book opens the Persian travelers long forgotten suitcases and analyzes the descriptions contained within to gain insight into Occidentalist perspectives on modern Europe By carefully tracing the physical and mental journeys of these travelers the book paints a picture of European architecture that is nothing like what one would expect

Occidentalism in Iran Ehsan Bakhshandeh,2016-09-29 Negative portrayals of the West in Iran are often centred around the CIA engineered coup of 1953 which overthrew Prime Minister Mohammad Mosaddeq or the hostage taking crisis in 1979 following the attack on the US embassy in Tehran Looking past these iconic events Ehsan Bakhshandeh explores the deeper anti imperialistic and anti hegemonic roots of the hostility to Westernism that is evident in the Iranian press Distinguishing between negative and outright hostile perceptions of the West which also encompasses Britain France and Germany the book traces how the West is represented as the Occident in the country's media From the Qajar period and the Tobacco protests of the late nineteenth century to the ill fated Anglo Persian Treaty of 1919 through to the 1953 coup and 1979 hostage crisis Bakshandeh highlights the various points in history when misinterpretations and conflicts led to a demonisation of the other in the Iranian media The major recent source of contention between the West and Iran has of course been the nuclear issue and the resultant regime of sanctions By examining how this and other issues have been represented by the Iranian press Bakshandeh offers a crucial and often overlooked aspect of the key relationship between Iran and the West

Occidentalism and Orientalism Carla

Kirkwood,2008 This dissertation seeks to explore from both the critiques of the Chinese Communist Party and of literary critics living and working in the West the ways in which the play itself was overshadowed by the ideological din of these two waves of critical response P xi Occidentalism Ian Buruma,Avishai Margalit,2004 Twenty five years ago Edward Said's Orientalism described the denigrating mirage of the East in the Western colonial mind But as Buruma and Margalit show in this book the West is the more dangerous mirage of our time and the idea of us in the minds of our self proclaimed enemies is still largely unexamined and misunderstood Occidentalism is their groundbreaking investigation of the demonizing fantasies and stereotypes about the Western world that fuel such hatred in others Beyond Occidentalism Fernando Coronil,1992

Occidentalism: The West In The Eyes Of Its Enemies Ian Buruma,Avishai Margalit,2004-11 A pioneering investigation of anti Western stereotypes Twenty five years after Edward Said's Orientalism a whole field of study has developed to analyse and interpret the denigrating fantasies of the exotic East that sustained the colonial mind But what about the fantasies of the West in the eyes of its self proclaimed enemies Those remain largely unexamined and as Ian Buruma and Avishai Margalit argue woefully misunderstood This groundbreaking investigation into the dreams and stereotypes of the Western world that fuel hatred in the hearts of Al Qaeda and its ilk argues that the origins of those dreams lie in the West itself The anti Western virus has found ready host in the Islamic world for a number of reasons but it is not native there The West that these jihadis imagine themselves fighting is the same menace that has haunted the thoughts of revolutionary groups since the early nineteenth century Occidentalism identifies its main oppositions the timid soft bourgeois versus the heroic revolutionary the machine society versus the organically knit one of blood and soil the sterile Western mind all reason and no soul versus the inner life of the spirit and provides a new conceptual framework for understanding them as we must to face the world's most pressing issues Local Histories/global Designs Walter Mignolo,2012-08-26 Local Histories Global Designs is an extended argument about the coloniality of power In a shrinking world where sharp dichotomies such as East West and developing developed blur and shift Walter Mignolo points to the inadequacy of current practices in the social sciences and area studies Local Histories/Global Designs Walter D. Mignolo,2000-01-17 This book is an extended argument on the coloniality of power by one of the most innovative scholars of Latin American studies In a shrinking world where sharp dichotomies such as East West and developing developed blur and shift Walter Mignolo points to the inadequacy of current practice in the social sciences and area studies He introduces the crucial notion of colonial difference into study of the modern colonial world He also traces the emergence of new forms of knowledge which he calls border thinking Further he expands the horizons of those debates already under way in postcolonial studies of Asia and Africa by dwelling in the genealogy of thoughts of South Central America the Caribbean and Latino as in the United States His concept of border

gnosis or what is known from the perspective of an empire's borderlands counters the tendency of occidentalist perspectives to dominate and thus limit understanding The book is divided into three parts the first chapter deals with epistemology and postcoloniality the next three chapters deal with the geopolitics of knowledge the last three deal with the languages and cultures of scholarship Here the author reintroduces the analysis of civilization from the perspective of globalization and argues that rather than one civilizing process dominated by the West the continually emerging subaltern voices break down the dichotomies characteristic of any cultural imperialism By underscoring the fractures between globalization and mundializacion Mignolo shows the locations of emerging border epistemologies and of post occidental reason In a new preface that discusses Local Histories Global Designs as a dialogue with Hegel's Philosophy of History Mignolo connects his argument with the unfolding of history in the first decade of the twenty first century

Know Thy Enemy

Meir Litvak, 2021-03-22 In Know Thy Enemy Meir Litvak analyzes the re articulations of the Others in modern Shi'ism as a novel way to examine the formulation of modern Shi'i identity and place in the world Among these others which have transformed into enemies in the modern period are the West apostates Wahhabism Jews Baha'i and feminism Looking at the rhetorical themes that Shi'i writers use the book demonstrates the contrast between the collective positive We and the negative threatening Other as a major principle in the evolution of Shi'ism as the minority branch of Islam It offers a complex view of Shi'i identity combining a sense of victimhood and insecurity together with conviction of intellectual and moral superiority and long term triumph

Israel Smith Clare, 1897 Racialization, Racism, and Anti-Racism in the Nordic Countries Peter Hervik, 2018-08-11 This book represents a comprehensive effort to understand discrimination racialization racism Islamophobia anti racist activism and the inclusion and exclusion of minorities in Nordic countries Examining critical media events in this heavily mediated society the contributors explore how processes of racialization take place in an environment dominated by commercial interests anti migrant and anti Muslim narratives and sentiments and a surprising lack of informed research on national racism and racialization Overall in tracing how these individual events further racial inequalities through emotional and affective engagement the book seeks to define the trajectory of modern racism in Scandinavia

The Atlantic Monthly, 1871

Occidentalism Xiaomei Chen, 2002 This revised and expanded edition of the first comprehensive study of Occidentalism in post Mao China includes a new preface foreword and chapter on Chinese diaspora writings in the Chinese language Xiaomei Chen offers an insightful account of the unremittingly favorable depiction of Western culture and its negative characterization of Chinese culture in post Mao China since 1978 She examines the cultural and political interrelationship between the East and West from a vantage point more complex than that accommodated by most current theories of Western imperialism and colonialism Going beyond Edward Said's construction in Orientalism of cross cultural appropriations as a defining facet of Western imperialism Chen argues that the appropriation of Western discourse what she calls Occidentalism can actually have a politically and ideologically liberating effect on contemporary non Western culture

She maintains that simplistic allegations of Orientalism frequently found in current critical discourses seriously underestimate the complexities of intercultural and multicultural relationships Using China as the focus of her analysis Chen examines a variety of cultural media from Shakespearean drama to modernist poetry to contemporary Chinese television and popular fiction She thus places sinology in the general context of Western theoretical discourses such as Eurocentrism postcolonialism nationalism modernism feminism and literary hermeneutics showing that it has a vital role to play in the study of Orient and Occident and their now unavoidable symbiotic relationship Occidentalism presents a new model of comparative literary and cultural studies that reenvisions cross cultural appropriation It will be indispensable to future discussions of Orientalism Occidentalism and postcolonialism as well as subaltern studies Asian studies comparative literature cultural studies and non Western drama
