Oceans Submerged Two The Oceans Series:

Structures in Deep Ocean Engineering Manual for Underwater Construction J. E. Smith, 1964      Ocean Observation based on Underwater Acoustic Technology, volume II Xuebo Zhang, Haixin Sun, Arata Kaneko, Suleman Mazhar, 2024-12-02

Since the sound wave is the only information carrier that can propagate long distances in the ocean underwater acoustic technology based on sound waves undoubtedly plays an important role in ocean observation. The development of underwater acoustic technology requires the support of various underwater acoustic sensors and signal processing techniques. The function of an underwater acoustic sensor is to conduct the conversion between an underwater acoustic signal and an electric signal. Their performance directly determines the quality of underwater acoustic equipment. However, the harsh environment such as high pressure, high temperature, and highly corrosive fluids, as well as different requirements such as low frequency, broad bandwidth, high power, and deep water, often affect the physical properties of materials and structural performance of transducers, which deteriorates the transducer performance. Due to the lack of comprehensive research on key techniques including material physical properties and interfacial bond properties, the reliability of structural components is often seriously affected by environmental conditions, which may lead to major performance degradation or even failure with the device performance. Therefore, it is challenging for the transducer design to balance the acoustic performance and the device's stability.

Acoustic Interactions With Submerged Elastic Structures - Part II: Propagation, Ocean Acoustics And Scattering Juri Engelbrecht, Ardesir Guran, Gerard A Maugin, Michael Werby, 2001-07-31

The interaction of acoustic fields with submerged elastic structures, both by propagation and scattering, is being investigated at various institutions and laboratories world wide with ever increasing sophistication of experiments and analysis. This book offers a collection of contributions from these research centers that represent the present state of the art in the study of acoustic elastic interaction being on the cutting edge of these investigations. This includes the description of acoustic scattering from submerged elastic objects and shells by the Resonance Scattering Theory of Flax Dragonette and beral and the interaction of these phenomena in terms of interface waves. It also includes the use of this theory for the purpose of inverse scattering i e the determination of the scattered objects properties from the received acoustic backscattered signals. The problem of acoustically excited waves in inhomogeneous and anisotropic materials and of inhomogeneous propagating waves is considered. Vibrations and resonances of elastic shells including shells with various kinds of internal attachments are analyzed. Acoustic scattering experiments are described in the time domain and on the basis of the Wigner Ville distribution. Acoustic propagation in the water column over elastic boundaries is studied experimentally both in laboratory tanks and in the field and is analyzed theoretically. Ultrasonic nondestructive testing including such aspects like probe modelling, scattering by various types of cracks receiving probes and calibration by a side drilled hole is also studied in details. A comprehensive picture of these complex phenomena and other aspects is presented in the book by researchers that are experts in each of these domains giving up to date accounts of the field in all these aspects Stalin's Ocean-going Fleet Mikhail Monakov,Jurgen Rohwer,2012-11-12 A study of the development of strategic concepts in Stalin's Navy in the context of his foreign defence policy using original archival documents translated from the Russian Stalin's Ocean-going Fleet: Soviet Jurgen Rohwer,2017-07-05 In this work two senior naval historians analyze the discussions held in leading Soviet political military and naval circles concerning naval strategy and the decisions taken for warship building programmes They describe the reconstitution of the fleet under difficult conditions from the end of the Civil War up to the mid 1920s leading to a change from classical naval strategy to a Jeune ecole model in the first two Five Year Plans including efforts to obtain foreign assistance in the design of warships and submarines Their aim is to explain the reasons for the sudden change in 1935 to begin building a big ocean going fleet After a period of co operation with Germany from 1939 41 the plans came to a halt when Hitler attacked the Soviet Union in 1941 Finally this work covers the reopening of the naval planning processes in 1944 and 1945 and the discussions of the naval leadership with Stalin the party and government officials about the direction of the new building programmes as the Cold War began Report on Researches Into the Composition of Ocean-water Dittmar,1884 Oceans 81 ,1981 Manual of Geology James Dwight Dana,1880 The Geological Magazine ,1875
