Study Guide Chapter 10

1

- Teaching Team (10-12 students)
- Project Director + Team (consists of 4-5 people). Responsible for creating tasks in every intervention that can be used for advocacy. Students practice understanding and presenting a clear definition that respects their identity.
- Team (6-8 students). Students work together on developing opinions. It is the case not based on a whole group, often students can talk about the upper or lower parts, and discuss their opinions across the other partners in a complete sentence.
- Students (10-12 students) work in pairs or small groups of 3 students. Each student is assigned to represent the team.

10 of 10

- Teaching Stage 3 (10-15 minutes):
  - Presenting: Students are asked to read a summary, plain, non-fiction article and the goal is to understand the text before discussing overall chapter themes, students give short answers to the 5 multiple question questions. I'm presented to integrate students' thoughts easier in their paragraphs later.
  - After the "Presenting" Stage by placing the "multiple-choice" of the text. They are in whole groups, students have to be very quick. Every member of the group has to read the article. Through the text, students will try to find details mentioned in the text and write questions, more like "True or False". Students will read through the text. Details will try to be more clearly mentioned in the text and write questions, more like "True or False". However, as a next step, they have to find questions on the end of the text. There are mostly up to 10 short answer questions and no multiple choice questions. I will give them 10-15 minutes to write questions, 10 minutes to explain their questions and 5 minutes to answer questions. I suggest my students to respond to these questions/questions in paragraphs form. At the beginning of this part I suggest them writing their answers and then are capable of doing this independently. However, after this time, I suggest them writing in sentence form, for more who need more support. Finally, the last of "Presenting" stage, the last questions have to be done.
  - Reading: I usually give each student one or a total of 10 poems. After the initial assignments, I give students student and allow them to the three poems for a second opinion.
