System vs. Culture: North American Education and Society in the Balance Frank Pace, 2014-05 For 160 years North American children have been subject to compulsory schooling Formal education has evolved some over that time but the end result of said evolution is an educational system which is dysfunctional inefficient and ultimately incapable of delivering on its professed mandates Frank Pace is an educator with years of diverse experience In System vs Culture North American Education and Society in the Balance he looks at the current state of compulsory North American education and sees a system in crisis He examines the history of modern education and dissects the root causes of its profound dysfunction System vs Culture North American Education and Society in the Balance offers some insight into how an alternative model of education might operate and how it would better serve the needs of a changing society and better achieve its purported goals Frank Pace has many important things to say about the state of North American education His arguments are persuasive and lucid and backed up by solid scholarship While the topic is complicated he does a good job breaking it down in a way that is readable and compelling for both education professionals and anyone interested in education and learning

Empowering Teachers for Equitable and Sustainable Education Maria Teresa Tatto, 2024-04-16 This groundbreaking book uses a comprehensive study of a novel Master of Education program to showcase how teachers can be engaged in authoritative equity based research using comparative education theory inquiry based pedagogy and the UNESCO SDGs as powerful frameworks By developing agency to advance culturally sustaining and humanizing practices it demonstrates how teachers can promote equity in their classrooms and communities The central premise of the program is that teachers must become comparative global and local action researchers to have agency in their practice and to become effective advocates for the cultural and learning needs of their students especially those in disadvantaged contexts or learning at the bottom of the pyramid By learning comparative framing and social science methods reviewing the literature to select verifiable educational research and developing and implementing a plan for action research this book offers new ideas for how teachers can effectively respond to recent UNESCO calls to reimagine and create promising futures locally By providing formative and summative evidence of culturally and socially transformative learning and showcasing how teacher educators can engage teachers in authoritative justice inquiry based research this book will appeal to scholars faculty and researchers of comparative education and teacher education and development
