

Practising Phonics

At Home and Out and About

If your child is learning phonics at school, you might want to support them at home by finding out what to do.

You might be the first to find out what phonics is the next time you're at school, but you need to be sure that you're supporting your child's learning. Here are some ways to help your child learn phonics at home:

If you are not sure what phonics means, ask a teacher, the library, or a library website for more information. You can also ask your child's teacher for any available phonics resources to help them learn.

At Home

Ask your child to read words that you have written on pieces of paper. Encourage them to sound out each word and then read the whole word. If you are using a pencil, ask them to write the words they have read.

Books

Encourage your child to read books that they are interested in. Ask them to read the words in the book and then ask them to read the whole book.

Top Tip

Encourage your child to read books that they are interested in. Ask them to read the words in the book and then ask them to read the whole book.

Fun in the Kitchen

Food Labels

Ask your child to read words that you have written on pieces of paper. Encourage them to sound out each word and then read the whole word. If you are using a pencil, ask them to write the words they have read.

Repeating Letters

Encourage your child to repeat words that you have written on pieces of paper. Encourage them to sound out each word and then read the whole word. If you are using a pencil, ask them to write the words they have read.

Food Labels
