Home Care for Older Adults Using Interprofessional Teams Danita H. Stapleton,Sekeria Bossie,2023-10-16 This textbook fosters a deeper understanding of how home healthcare goals for older adults can be achieved through interprofessional collaboration The contributors create a context where allied health and healthcare professionals can acquire and exchange knowledge about their diverse disciplines and practices for the betterment of the home care population The book also reinforces what the COVID 19 pandemic made quite apparent to health institutions and providers patients can receive adequate and acceptable care within the home setting The pandemic also highlighted the important role that interprofessionalism can play in attaining desired patient outcomes Statistics reveal that the population of persons over the age of 65 years is the largest that it has ever been This volume focuses on older adult patients because caring for these individuals from an interprofessional perspective is now more important than ever. Through the ten chapters of this edited book the contributors including home care providers offer their perspectives on interprofessional collaboration and the provision of quality home care services. They use the Interprofessional Education Collaborative's IPEC four core competencies as a framework for improving the collaborative practice of home health care for older adult patients with complex medical issues. Among the topics covered: Medical Social Work and Case Management, Skilled Nursing, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Behavioral Health Care, Other Relevant Home Care Services, Prosthetics and Orthotics, Pharmacy Services, Durable Medical Equipment and Nutritional Services. Home Care for Older Adults Using Interprofessional Teams is intended for advanced undergraduate and graduate students in health or allied health programs and can be used as a primary text for interprofessional education courses. The text benefits students, instructors, and faculty who have stakes in obtaining positive health outcomes for older adult patients. Today, more and more programs are requiring the development of interprofessional competencies. This book provides a forum where students can obtain in-depth knowledge of teaming as well as the roles and functions of various care providers.

Occupational Therapy and the Older Adult Jean M. Kiernat, 1991

Whether you work with the well elderly acute care patients or the terminally ill, Occupational Therapy and the Older Adult is the complete resource of methods for better understanding and treatment. It provides practical information on educating patients treating the whole person, preventing disability, treating physical and cognitive problems and much more.

The American Journal of Occupational Therapy, 1995    Interprofessional Collaboration in Occupational Therapy

Stanley Paul, Cindee Peterson, 2012-12-06. Interaction between professionals, students in various disciplines leads to greater respect, cooperation and practical knowledge for all. Interprofessional Collaboration in Occupational Therapy written by experienced occupational therapists examines successful programs and models of practice involving collaboration between OT clinicians and allied health professionals. This vital information can help you deliver services to the elderly, the underserved and the chronically ill that are more effective than traditional primary care models. This book will show you how to apply the concepts of interprofessional collaboration to increase professional competence and public accountability, improve the cost effectiveness of the way your resources are used, gain better evidence based decision making skills, make more effective referrals, avoid duplication of services to clients, make better use of faculty time and classroom space by teaching subjects common to various health professions: anatomy, physiology, kinesiology and other basic sciences.
