Parental Involvement:

Parental Involvement in Childhood Education Garry Hornby, 2011-04-07 Parental participation has long been recognized as a positive factor in children's education. Research consistently shows that parents' contributions to their children's education lead to improvements in their academic and behavioral outcomes from elementary through middle and secondary school. Recognizing the critical role of school psychologists in this equation, Parental Involvement in Childhood Education clearly sets out an evidence-based rationale and blueprint for building parental involvement and faculty awareness. The author's starting point is the gap between the ideals found in the literature and the reality of parental involvement in schools. An ecological analysis identifies professional, institutional, and societal factors that keep schools and parents distant. Methods for evaluating parental involvement are detailed, as is a model for developing and maintaining strong parental relationships at the instructor, school, and education system level, with an emphasis on flexible communication and greater understanding of parents' needs. This empirically sound coverage offers readers a detailed understanding of obstacles to parental involvement, an evidence-based model for parental participation, a three-nation study of parental involvement practices in schools, guidelines for implementing parental involvement activities and initiatives, a review of effective communication strategies with parents, and analysis of key interpersonal skills for effective work with parents. Parental Involvement in Childhood Education is essential reading for practitioners and researchers in school psychology and counseling, social work, and educational psychology, whether they work directly with schools or in providing training for teachers and other professionals who work with children and their parents. Engaging Families in Schools Nicola S. Morgan, 2016-11-10 Engaging Families in Schools is a practical resource that provides strategies and ideas that will contribute to the effective engagement of families and the involvement of parents in their child's education. Parental engagement with school staff has a significant and very positive impact on children's learning, and strategies presented have been extensively trialled in a variety of different settings. Nicola S. Morgan shows school staff how to understand the importance of family engagement and evidence the outcomes. This book has been split into ten easily accessible units: Understanding the importance of parent engagement; Using whole school strategies to engage parents; The role of the family engagement officer; Engaging all parents; Engaging Dads; Engaging multicultural parents; Difficult to engage parents; Working with parents to improve student attainment; Working with parents to improve behaviour and attendance; Working with parents of children with additional needs. This is a must-read guide for teaching and non-teaching staff who wishes to bridge the gap between their student's school and family life and understand the effects of positive family engagement. Do Parents Know They Matter? Alma Harris, Kirstie Andrew-Power, Janet Goodall, 2009-05-04 It is commonly agreed that engaging parents with their child's learning is positive and has wide-reaching benefits. This book articulates why parental engagement is of value and how it can be achieved with positive results. Beyond the why and how, the book explores what effective parental engagement is making explicit the link between this and the impact on the learning of the child To support this practical workable solutions and strategies are provided through case studies The book provides a powerful combination of academic theory supported with quantifiable and qualitative evidence from students parents and schools alongside answers provided by those who work with the challenges of this agenda on a daily basis It will challenge motivate and inspire understanding through the political agenda and empower and enable schools to develop their practice Improving

The Influence of Parental Involvement on Academic Self-Confidence and Engagement Elizabeth Ifeoma Anierobi,Obinna Anthony Ezennaka,2019-11-08 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2016 in the subject Psychology Intelligence and Learning Psychology Nnamdi Azikiwe University Awka Faculty of Education language English abstract What is the relationship between parental involvement and academic self confidence of junior secondary school students in Awka What is the relationship between parental involvement and academic engagement among junior secondary school students in Awka Parental involvement in the academic activities of their children no doubt plays a vital role towards developing academic self confidence and engagement of the students As the primary socializing agent of the children parents have the responsibility of nurturing them for all round development through their interaction However in this contemporary time where parents are very busy with making money and pursuing their different careers and vocations they seem to pay less or no attention by getting involved in the academic activities of their wards thereby leaving them solely in the hands of teachers or all by themselves This development seems to be a slap on the expectation that parents through nurturing their children build their self confidence which could in turn affect how they engage in academic activities It is against this scenario that the researcher determines to explore the predictive influence of perceived parental involvement on academic self confidence and academic engagement among junior secondary school students in Awka Parental involvement refers to the degree to which parents are committed to their role in providing guidance showing interest motivating their wards and having a good communication skill geared towards promoting their children s active engagement in the school It typically concerns the amount of effort that parents put into child oriented education as well as other activities Apparently parental involvement refers to parent behaviours related to the child s school or schooling that can be observed as manifestations of their commitment to their child s educational affairs This means that a parent who shows these behaviours in a larger extent can be regarded as higher involved than a parent who shows these behaviours in a lesser degree In this study parental involvement is delimited to the degree to which students feel that their parents get involved and put efforts into their education to ensure their active engagement in academic activities revolving around teaching and learning processes in the classroom

Narrowing the Achievement Gap Janet Goodall, 2017-04-21 Narrowing the Achievement Gap proposes a radical change to our conception of learning education and schooling arguing that parental engagement is the best lever we have for school improvement and closing the achievement gap Unique in its focus on original research linking underachievement and parental engagement this book uses a range of international case studies to demonstrate that achievement isn t only reliant on what happens in school and that what happens out of school is equally important Each chapter explores how schools can actively engage with parents and communities to reinstate education in the home and to generate support to combat issues out of their control including poverty deprivation and a lack of social capital Although schools have an integral part to play in this process it argues that parents and society must reconsider their own educational responsibility regardless of background and offers a solid research base and practical suggestions to help do so Consisting of an in depth and contemporary study of this significant issue in educational achievement and written by an expert in the field this text will appeal to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of education schooling sociology of education school effectiveness and improvement school policy and school leadership Parental Engagement and Early

Childhood Education Around the World Susanne Garvis, Sivanes Phillipson, Heidi Harju-Luukkainen, Alicja Renata Sadownik, 2021-12-23 Exploring the importance of parental engagement in early childhood education this book delves into research and practices in 25 countries to bring students researchers teachers and policy makers insights into working families around the world The incorporation and consideration of parental engagement and involvement in early childhood education are a new phenomenon to many countries Yet increasing research recognises the importance of parental engagement and involvement in early childhood education services and the role both parents and teachers play to support children s learning and development Using a range of materials from curriculum to policy documents Garvis et al demonstrate differences in practices and terminologies pertaining to the topic and provide an international perspective on the importance of parental involvement and engagement in early childhood education services The content covers a range of countries as well as countries beyond an Anglo Saxon perspective The different policy settings across these countries highlight how countries work with and involve parents differently which is useful for jurisdictions where early childhood education is a developing aspect of a country s education system Looking at cultural influences partnership approaches parental collaboration institutional dominance and child involvement in parent meetings the content offers readers real understanding of parental engagement and involvement in different settings The readership includes students in early childhood education and researchers teachers policy makers and general members of the public interested in parental engagement or involvement in early childhood education across the globe

Parents as Partners in Schooling Centre for Educational Research and Innovation, 1997 Many OECD countries are coming to the conclusion that close co operation between family and school helps children to learn more effectively This volume assesses the benefits of parental participation in education and discusses ways to achieve it

Parents And Teachers Carol Vincent, 2013-10-08 This work examines the factors that shape and influence home school relations At its heart is an analysis of parent teacher relationships in an inner city borough drawn from case studies of five primary schools and a parents centre Interviews with parents are revealing windows into parents views on a range of issues including curriculum discipline and parents relationships with their children s teachers The author also considers teachers perspectives on these matters and explores the influence of social class ethnicity and gender on parent teacher interactions While presenting these issues within a consideration of broader themes such as citizenship community power and participation the book discusses the reasons why initiatives designed to improve home school relations appear to result in such limited change
