UbiComp 2007: Ubiquitous Computing John Krumm, Gregory D. Abowd, Aruna Seneviratne, Thomas Strang, 2007-09-14

The Ubiquitous Computing conference series provides the premier forum in which to present original research results in all areas relating to the design, implementation, application and evaluation of ubiquitous computing technologies. It is a well-established platform to introduce and discuss research that enables new capabilities, appropriate security and privacy, improved user experiences and simplified and powerful development and deployment practices. These proceedings contain the papers presented at the Ninth International Conference on Ubiquitous Computing UbiComp 2007 in Innsbruck, Austria in September 2007. Our call for papers resulted in 150 submissions, each of which was assigned to a primary and a secondary member of our Program Committee. Every primary and secondary member was responsible for assigning one or more additional qualified reviewers with specific expertise in the field. After double blind reviews and an online discussion, we had a two-day face to face meeting with 38 of the 40 Program Committee members attending the PC meeting held just before the Pervasive 2007 conference in Toronto, Canada in May 2007. We are grateful to Khai Truong, Jeremy Knight and Alex Varshavsky of the University of Toronto for providing facilities and support for this meeting. At the PC meeting, about 80 of the submissions were individually and extensively discussed in one of the three subgroups: sensors, experiences and systems, as well as in the calibration and decision panels. The PC finally selected 29 papers for publication in these proceedings.

In/visible War Jon Simons, John Louis Lucaites, 2017-06-14 In Visible War addresses a paradox of twenty-first-century American warfare. The contemporary visual American experience of war is ubiquitous and yet war is simultaneously invisible or absent. We lack a lived sense that America is at war. This paradox of in visibility concerns the gap between the experiences of war zones and the visual mediated experience of war in public popular culture, which absents and renders invisible the former. Large portions of the domestic public experience war only at a distance. For these citizens, war seems abstract or may even seem to have disappeared altogether due to a relative absence of visual images of casualties. Perhaps even more significantly, wars can be fought without sacrifice by the vast majority of Americans. Yet the normalization of twenty-first-century war also renders it highly visible. War is made visible through popular commercial mediated culture. The spectacle of war occupies the contemporary public sphere in the forms of celebrations at athletic events and in films, video games and other media coming together as MIME, the Military Industrial Media Entertainment Network.

Human Factors in Privacy Research Nina Gerber, Alina Stöver, Karola Marky, 2023-09-17 This book covers topics needed to be considered in research around usable privacy. The book starts from a psychological perspective and introduces readers to basic behavioral theories and models that can explain end user privacy behavior including the privacy paradox on a theoretical level. Subsequently, an introduction to different study methods e.g. experiment, survey, interviews, co-creation used in usable privacy research is given. Based on this, different methodological aspects such as identifying appropriate questionnaires and applying User Centered

Design will be discussed Finally the book describes application areas for privacy research such as dark patterns and presents solutions for privacy protection e g regarding consent giving and PETs The book aims to bring together the different research approaches to the topic of usable privacy which often originate from computer science psychology and law and provide a methodologically sound basis for researchers who want to delve deeper into this topic This is an open access book Are We There Yet? Susan Sessions Rugh,2008 An entertaining cultural history of the American family vacation during the height of its popularity from 1945 to 1973 Reveals the ways in which the ritual of the family road trip for most middle class
