Commercialization of Papua New Guinea's vegetable sector: Identifying constraints using quantitative, qualitative, and large language model methods

Fang, Peixun, Anamo, Iga, Gimiseve, Harry, Hayoge, Glen, Mukerjee, Rishabh, Schmidt, Emily, Zhang, Xiaobo, 2025-07-14 This paper evaluates the constraints within Papua New Guinea's vegetable sector drawing on large scale household surveys extensive qualitative interviews with key stakeholders and Large Language Model LLM methods Our survey data reveal that vegetable production is ubiquitous with almost all households surveyed 91% growing at least one vegetable Indigenous varieties such as leafy greens 96% and fresh beans 69% are widely cultivated across regions while high value vegetables like onion 17% and tomato 19% show more regional concentration Over half 53% of PNG vegetable farmers sell their produce with farmers located in the nonseasonal highlands agro ecological area leading in market participation 66% contributing to an overall commercialization rate of 24% defined as the share of production sold However modern input use particularly improved seed adoption significantly lags behind output commercialization in all agroecological zones except the islands survey areas The quantitative analysis using the PNG Rural Household Survey 2023 and the qualitative analysis drawing from both manual review and LLM assisted processing of in depth interview notes consistently identify poor feeder roads as critical bottlenecks for every stakeholder across PNG's vegetable value chain Beyond transportation these interviews repeatedly highlighted persistent seed supply shortages and high seed costs as significant hurdles Since PNG depends on imported vegetable seeds several structural and procedural barriers contribute to these shortages These include potentially arduous quarantine procedures limited foreign exchange for seed imports and cumbersome permit processes often leaving major distributors with insufficient stock These reported bottlenecks may contribute to the low improved seed adoption and use reflected in the household survey analysis
