Electric Vehicles United States. General Accounting Office,1994 China's Electric Vehicle Industry Yingqi Liu,2025-09-01 Innovation and Development of China's New Energy Vehicles Industry provides comprehensive insights into the role of new energy vehicles in facilitating the global energy transition. The book aims to foster an understanding of how these vehicles contribute to the shift towards green energy. Drawing from extensive data collected from over 20 cities, 40 companies and more than 500 questionnaires, the book offers practical information for policymakers and industry stakeholders. Beyond the technological aspects such as battery technology, electric drive systems and charging infrastructure, the book also discusses policy support mechanisms, financial subsidies, tax incentives and regulatory frameworks. It includes international case studies from the USA and UK, aiding readers in grasping the global dynamics and fostering international cooperation. The book is essential for understanding the interplay between new energy vehicles and energy transition, providing actionable insights for industry professionals, researchers and policymakers. Presents comprehensive insights into the current Chinese approach to the new energy vehicle industry. Highlights technological innovation as the core driving factor in business model innovation, aligning with the rapidly evolving nature of new energy vehicles and their reliance on technological breakthroughs in battery systems, energy storage and charging infrastructure. Includes case study comparisons to new energy vehicle industry development in other countries and in global policy development. What determines green purchase behavior? Zhongju Liao, Shufeng Xiao, Siying Long, 2024-05-31 Green purchase behavior refers to consumers purchasing green products that are environmentally friendly, using fewer resources and causing lower environmental impact and risk. As a growing number of people start to recognize the importance of individual responsibility for environmental protection, firms are increasingly motivated to develop green products to fit the needs of this green advocacy. Despite an emerging number of consumers claiming their preference towards green brands compared to traditional alternatives, researchers have found that there is a huge gap between consumers' purchase intention and actual behavior, which has gained much attention. The psychological process of green purchase behavior may be a complicated process influenced by various factors such as consumer values and norms, the pros and cons marketed for green products and various other situational factors. Scholars are calling for research that explores the psychological decision making process of green purchase behavior from both theoretical and practical perspectives. Due to the high pricing of green products, the trade off between the price and function of green products may lower consumers' satisfaction. Thus, there is always a gap between green purchase intention and actual purchase behavior. What determines consumers' actual green purchase behavior? Under what conditions will the consumers pay a premium price for green products? What prompts consumers to choose green brands over traditional alternatives? Will green consumption be a passing trend or a long term consumption habit? What influences the frequency of consumers' green purchasing? Scholars are welcome to share their opinions and findings about

green purchase behavior to help explore this research topic We are extremely interested in the determinants of green purchase behavior and the mechanism of facilitating green consumption considering different perspectives Micromobility Selim Dündar,2025-01-20 This book provides a comprehensive overview on micromobility which is a mode of transportation that has become particularly popular among young people in recent years due to the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic and supports public transport for short distances It includes contributions by an interdisciplinary pool of authors from civil engineering urban and regional planning law social sciences physiotherapy and rehabilitation It demonstrates that micromobility is a developing mode of transportation and represents a service that needs to be integrated into the transportation system The book addresses micromobility from various perspectives making it a reference tool for researchers transportation planners operators decision makers and policy makers A special focus is put on the effects of micromobility on health the business models and the legal status of micromobility systems reflecting perspectives from both health sciences and social sciences

Circular Economy Implementation for Sustainability in the Built Environment Cobîrzan, Nicoleta,Muntean, Radu,Felseghi, Raluca-Andreea,2023-10-03 The construction sector plays an essential role in the global economy using many exhaustible natural resources most of which are renewable in low percentages Moving towards a circular economy is essential because optimizing the consumption of materials and energy contributes to the development of an economic system that is independent more competitive and more resilient in the face of economic and social crises and various environmental factors The current take make and dispose model of the economy is unsustainable so a shift in thinking towards a circular economy is necessary This circular economy is an economic model that minimizes the use of natural resources by selecting them intelligently and minimizing the use of raw materials favoring the use of recyclable materials wherever possible while managing the resources used and maintaining and reusing them in the economic system for as long as possible Circular Economy Implementation for Sustainability in the Built Environment emphasizes the need to implement a circular economy model in the built environment and how to create a system that optimizes the use of resources and construction materials while preserving their properties and values Covering topics such as automobile industries lean manufacturing and operation strategy this premier reference source is an excellent resource for engineers construction managers business leaders urban planners students and educators of higher education researchers and academicians

Electric Vehicle Progress ,2002 New Outlook ,1896 Choose Wisely Barry Schwartz,Richard Schuldenfrei,2025-09-23 A leading psychologist and philosopher challenge the shortcomings of rational choice theory and propose a new framework for understanding decision making For many decision scientists their starting point drawn from economics is a quantitative formula called rational choice theory allowing people to calculate and choose the best options The problem is that this framework assumes an overly simplistic picture of the world in which different types of values can be quantified and compared leading to the most rational choice Behavioral economics acknowledges that irrationality is common but still accepts the underlying belief from economics of what a rational decision should look like In this book Barry Schwartz and Richard Schuldenfrei offer a different way to think about the choices we make every day Drawing from economics psychology and philosophy and both inspired by and challenging Daniel Kahneman's Thinking Fast and Slow they show how the focus on rationality narrowly understood fails to fully describe how we think about our decisions much less help us make better ones Notably it overlooks the positive contribution that framing how we determine what aspects are most important to us contributes to good decisions Schwartz and Schuldenfrei argue that our choices should be informed by our individual constellation of virtues allowing for a far richer understanding of the decisions we make and helping us to live more integrated and purposeful lives
