Middle School Chants:

Look Ma, "Hands" on Poetry Adele Steiner, 2008-05 The workshops in Look Ma Hands on Poetry are designed to help teachers and poets familiarize elementary through high school students with a variety of creative and fun ways to engage their imaginations and write poetry. They do so by encouraging teachers and students to explore together the art of poetry i.e. the art of employing the five senses to capture experience in language. The workshops also introduce young writers to a wide range of poets and the poetic techniques and styles that they have incorporated in their writing. As a result when students complete a series of workshops from this book they will know how to write a poem. They may enjoy reading more poetry too because they will have a solid understanding of how poetry works. Finally there are exciting ideas in Look Ma Hands on Poetry for ways in which young writers can exhibit and perform their poetry. The workshops in this book run from 45-60 minutes with the time divided into three segments. In the first the teacher reads and discusses poems that are examples of the types of poetry students will be writing. In the second the teacher introduces the writing assignment and has students begin writing. Finally students who finish poems are invited to share them in the remaining class time. Because poetry is the art of capturing experience in language the workshops are structured around sight smell taste touch and sound. Each of the workshops in the first five chapters is geared toward exploring one of these senses and the two later chapters contain workshops that require students to use all five to write their poems. As a result workshops from each chapter may be used individually or in sequence to create one or two-week poetry units that teachers and students can enjoy. Workshops in the book include the Sleight of Hand and Animal Mask Workshops wherein students use metaphor simile and personification to create imagery in poems. They use music and musical instruments to help them create sound and rhythm in the Native American Chant and Rap Workshops and then they literally play with words to write Bingo and Multiple Voice Poems. Young people have opportunities to express their feelings through poetry in the Blues Love Potion and Ode Workshops and finally they use their five senses simultaneously when writing Bubble and Rainbow Poems and when they interpret paintings, sculpture and music in Echphrastic Poems. The book's final section presents creative ideas for poetry readings books and displays. Suggestions for readings include the Poetry Cafe which can incorporate any of the Coffee House Tea Room 1950's Diner and or Greco Roman Garden venues discussed in this section. Student poetry books and chapbooks complete with student art and photos are described here too along with plans for poetry rainbows sidewalks mobiles and poetry word collections.

Shining gleaming steaming flaxen waxen. In 1967 Hair launched a revolution. It rejected every convention of Broadway of traditional theatre in general and of the American musical specifically. It paved the way for the nonlinear concept musicals that dominated American musical theatre innovation thereafter. It also launched the careers of such actors as Diane Keaton, Melba Moore, Tim Curry, Peter Gallagher, and Ben Vereen. Knotted polka dotted, twisted, beaded, braided. With more regional productions of Hair than ever before, Scott Miller gives us an incisive and fascinating analysis of the show. He looks at its place in theatre and cultural history and its impact on recent musicals including Rent. What's more, he delves into the mystical power Hair has over performers and viewers alike and its ability to literally change lives today, including his Just ten days shy of the terrorist attacks in September 2001, Miller's theatre company had wrapped up their second production of Hair. The show profoundly shaped their reaction to those events, committing them to the belief in the goodness of people in general and of Americans in specific and in the connectedness we all share. And as he reports, the same profound feelings have been true of others performing this piece: Bangled, tangled, spangled and spaghetti. Whether you're a fan wanting to relive the time that extolled peace, love and understanding and sex, drugs and rock n roll, or a theatre professional needing insightful analysis for a production, read Scott Miller and know the true genius of Hair. You create societies by building things. From the former faith adviser to President Obama comes a fresh manifesto for those who seek to promote positive change and build a more diverse and just democracy. The goal of social change work is not a more ferocious revolution; it is a more beautiful social order. It is harder to organize a fair trial than it is to fire up a crowd, more challenging to build a good school than it is to tell others they are doing education all wrong. But every decent society requires fair trials and good schools, and that's just the beginning of the list of institutions and structures that need to be efficiently created and effectively run in large scale, diverse democracy. We Need to Build is a call to create those institutions and a guide for how to run them well. In his youth, Eboo Patel was inspired by love-based activists like John Lewis, Martin Luther King Jr., Badshah Khan, Mahatma Gandhi, Mother Teresa, Dorothy Day, Abraham Joshua Heschel, and Thich Nhat Hanh. Their example and a timely challenge to build the change he wanted to see led to a life engaged in the particulars of building nourishing and sustaining an institution that seeks to promote positive social change Interfaith America Now drawing on his twenty years of experience Patel tells the stories of what he's learned and how in the process he came to construct as much as critique and collaborate more than oppose His challenge to us is clear those of us committed to refounding America as a just and inclusive democracy need to defeat the things we don't like by building the things we do
