Migrations And Mobilities Citizenship Borders And Gender:

Migrations and Mobilities Seyla Benhabib,Judith Resnik,2009-03 This work discusses the unprecedented challenges that the movement of peoples across national borders poses for the people involved as well as for the places to which they travel and their countries of origin Migrations and Mobilities Seyla Benhabib,Judith Resnik,2009 The International Handbook on Gender, Migration and Transnationalism Laura Oso,Natalia Ribas-Mateos,2013-01-01 The highly unique International Handbook on Gender Migration and Transnationalism represents a state of the art review of the critical importance of the links between gender and migration in a globalizing world It draws on original largely field based contributions by authors across a range of disciplinary provenances worldwide This unprecedented and ambitious Handbook addresses core debates on issues of gender migration transnationalism and development from a migrationdevelopment nexus Using an analytical approach it explores the influence of global changes namely the analysis of transnational migration flows from the perspective of the articulation of production and reproduction chains Particular attention is paid to so called global care chains with new models developed around the emerging trends played out by women in contemporary mobility flows This path breaking Handbook will provide a thought provoking read for a multidisciplinary audience of academics researchers and students of social science disciplines encompassing economics sociology geography demography political science and political sociology migration studies family and gender studies and labour markets The Handbook will also be of major interest to and importance for local and national governments international agencies and their policymakers and administrators

Gender, Migration and the Media Myria Georgiou,2014-06-11 This volume brings together a number of experts who explore conceptual and policy challenges as well as empirical realities associated with gender and migration in highly mediated societies The need to more systematically address the gendered experience of migration especially in relation to political and cultural representation is in the core of the discussions that unfold in this book The book s chapters address a number of critical questions in relation to the representation of women as members of communities and as outsiders in culturally diverse societies In doing so the collection pays particular attention to the sphere of media and communications Mediated communication has become crucially important in the construction of meanings of identity and citizenship while the media have taken centre stage in framing debates on migration border control and gender representations in culturally diverse societies Gender Migration and the Media presents a cross cultural and interdisciplinary understanding of the practices and the consequences of mediated communication for identity and citizenship This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies The Globalization of Motherhood Wendy Chavkin,JaneMaree Maher,2010-09-13 Brings together research from the Global North and the Global South to illuminate how contemporary motherhood is changed by the processes of globalization Gender and Citizenship in Historical and Transnational Perspective Anne Epstein,Rachel Fuchs,2017-09-16 With gender as its central focus this book offers a transnational multi faceted understanding of citizenship as legislated imagined and exercised since the late eighteenth century. Framed around three crosscutting themes agency space and borders leading scholars demonstrate what historians can bring to the study of citizenship and its evolving relationship with the theory and practice of democracy and how we can make the concept of citizenship operational for studying past societies and cultures. The essays examine the past interactions of women and men with public authorities their participation in civic life within various kinds of polities and the meanings they attached to their actions. In analyzing the way gender operated both to promote and to inhibit civic consciousness action and practice this book advances our knowledge about the history of citizenship and the evolution of the modern state.

Immigration, Emigration, and Migration Jack Knight, 2017-01-17. Immigration Emigration and Migration consists of essays written by distinguished scholars across the fields of law political science and philosophy that examine questions of travel and migration across national borders. Questions of immigration and border enforcement practices are particularly salient in contemporary public discourse and examinations of policy and practice bring forth new philosophical quandaries. Why the common assumption that each country has the right to control its own borders. How are laws that restrict or regulate migration created and justified. Why has the criminalization of migration increased. How can migration be better considered through the point of view of the migrants themselves. What are the differences in international and national institutional migratory policy. The volume explores questions of border control and enforcement criminalization of borders and how to address current debates and changes in regards to migration and immigration. The intersection of analysis and prescription provides both an assessment of current forms of thought or regulation and suggestion of alterations to address the flaws or failures of present approaches. The eight essays in this volume reflect a variety of considerations and explorations across interdisciplinary lines and provide a new and thought provoking discussion of policy practice and philosophy of migratory and border practices.

The Bloomsbury Handbook of 21st-Century Feminist Theory Robin Truth Goodman, 2019-02-07. This handbook is a survey of the state of the art of contemporary feminist thought. The book includes insights from literary and cultural studies philosophy political science and sociology.

Migrants and Race in the US Philip Kretsedemas, 2013-10-23. This book explains how migrants can be viewed as racial others not just because they are nonwhite but because they are racially alien. This way of seeing makes it possible to distinguish migrants from a set of racial categories that are presumed to be indigenous to the nation. In the US these indigenous racial categories are usually defined in terms of white and black. Kretsedemas explores how this kind of racialization puts migrants in a quandary leading them to be simultaneously raced and situated outside of race. Although the book focuses on the situation of migrants in the US it builds on theories of migrants and race that extend beyond the US and makes a point of criticizing nation centered explanations of race and racism. These arguments point toward the emergence of a new field visibility that has transformed the racial meaning of nativity migration and migrant ethnicity. It also situates these changing views of migrants in a broader historical perspective than prior theory explaining how they have been shaped by a changing relationship between race and territory that has been unfolding for several hundred years and which crystallizes in the late colonial era The Honors Journal

,2014 2008 Editors' Symposium, 2008 Federalism and Subsidiarity James E. Fleming, Jacob T Levy, 2014-06-27 In

Federalism and Subsidiarity a distinguished interdisciplinary group of scholars in political science law and philosophy address the application and interaction of the concept of federalism within law and government What are the best justifications for and conceptions of federalism What are the most useful criteria for deciding what powers should be allocated to national governments and what powers reserved to state or provincial governments What are the implications of the principle of subsidiarity for such questions What should be the constitutional standing of cities in federations Do we need to remap federalism to reckon with the emergence of translocal and transnational organizations with porous boundaries that are not reflected in traditional jurisdictional conceptions Examining these questions and more this latest installation in the NOMOS series sheds new light on the allocation of power within federations New Books on Women, Gender and Feminism, 2010 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 The Family and the Nation Sarah

Katherine van Walsum, 2008 Until recently migration policies primarily targeted labour migrants and asylum seekers Family migration was taken for granted But now many nations are restricting family migration particularly from poorer countries The Netherlands have even gone so far as to require family migrants to pass an integration test before being allowed to enter the country How can this shift in policies be explained Does it as some suggest indicate a new trend towards racist exclusion This book places family migration policies in the broader perspective of changing family norms In doing so it shows the added value of studying immigration law not as an isolated field but in connection with other fields of law and policy Taking the Netherlands as an example it shows how family migration policies have evolved from a system premised on the male breadwinner citizen TM's right to domicile to one granting and restricting freedom of movement according to individual merit Although grounded in a different ethos the techniques of power now being used to enforce the emerging distinctions of a globalising world are in fact reminiscent of those once used to enforce the racial and gendered distinctions of the colonial past Jahrbuch des Simon-Dubnow-Instituts, 2009 Choice, 2009 Gender mobil? Helma Lutz, 2009 Crossing Borders and Shifting Boundaries M. Morokvasic-Müller, Umut Erel, Kyoko Shinozaki, 2013-11-11 The two volumes Gender and Migration crossing borders and shifting boundaries offer an interdisciplinary perspective on women and men on the move today exploring the diversification of migratory patterns and its implication in different parts of the world It reflects the vibrant scholarly debates as well as unique learning and teaching experiences of the Project Area Migration the International Women's University While pointing to historical continuities it is shown how contemporary ways of bridging time and space are shaped by the new opportunities or lack of them related to the process of globalization This shaping is gendered

Gendering migration paves the way for further intersectional analysis Vol I critically examines mobility globalization and migration policy from a gender perspective It includes case studies on internal and international migratory processes in and from Latin America Europe Africa Asia and North America Furthermore it makes an important contribution to the issue of agency and empowerment emerging from migrant women's experience Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers
