

Graduation Speech – Class of 2015
Saint Xavier High School - May 17, 2015

Graduates:

Welcome to this Day and to the meaning behind the dignity of this ceremony as you join the ranks of Saint Xavier's alumni.

You have been school leaders at an historical time as we concluded the celebration of the school's 150th Anniversary. Reflect for a moment on that history, on those who have gone before you, developing the philosophy, programs and facilities and paving the way for the opportunities you have had and the experiences we have shared. Soon it will be your responsibility to ensure a St. X experience for other students and that such opportunities are there and even better for them.

Then reflect one more time on our theme for the year: Together, we dream, we believe and we achieve. Those who walked the halls, took the classes and were part of the teams and activities before you continued to dream, developing a vision for what St. X has become and achieving in ways that propelled our school forward. And all along the way, they believed faithfully that God would walk with them and provide even more opportunities to learn, know, love and serve.

You have continued the traditions, stretched the vision and walked together in faith in all that we have asked you to do.

Lead Me, Follow Me, Or Get Out of My Way Mark R. Shulman, 2012 This monograph explains why robust civil military relations matter and discusses how they are evolving Part I examines the jurisprudence that has reshaped civil military relations The author maintains that since the Vietnam era the U S Supreme Court has hewn the armed forces from general society in order to create a separate and more socially conservative sphere Part II argues that the nation's polity is in decline and that the increasingly politicized armed forces may force a change in government Part III asks Where do we go from here This monograph attributes a thinning of civilian control over the military to specific legal and political decisions They explain some of the most important implications of this transformation and offer proposals about how to improve that critical relationship for the sake of enhancing the effectiveness of the armed forces and the vitality of the republic This monograph goes on to examine briefly the evolving great power politics the effects new technologies have on long standing distinctions and borders and the relative rise of non state actors including al Qaeda three sets of exogenous factors that inevitably drive changes in the civil military relationship In the end this monograph points to a more ambitious enterprise a complete reexamination of the relationship between force and society The Military Academy, 1912 The Return of the State of War Dario Battistella, 2008-03-01 On 18 March 2003 the United States attacked Iraq during Operation Iraqi Freedom On 16 January 1991 the US had attacked Iraq during Operation Desert Storm The two wars were radically different Whereas Operation Desert Storm had been launched with the hope that a new world order might emerge Operation Iraqi Freedom signified the return of an imperial America unilaterally resorting to preventive warfare representative of a Hobbesian conception of international politics Why did the promise of a privileged resort to peaceful inter state conflict resolution implied during the first Gulf War give way to the explicit triumph of the might is right principle during the second Gulf War Is the shift in America's foreign behaviour but a mere parenthesis or potentially the first stage of a long term process likely to undermine the currently prevailing Lockean anarchy This book aims to answer some of these questions The New Military Professional William Leyda Jesse, 1972 The Performance of Soldiers as Governors Isaac James Mowoe, 1980
