The Ethics of Cities Timothy Beatley,2024-04-05 Ethical dilemmas and value conflicts affect cities globally but urban leaders and citizens often avoid confronting them directly and instead view the governance of cities as primarily an administrative task or even worse a merely political one Timothy Beatley challenges readers to consider the issues in our cities not simply as legal or economic problems but as moral ones asking readers How can a city become more ethical Beatley unearths exposes and explores the many ethical questions cities face today and touches on many topics from privacy and crime to racism and the ethics of public space Drawing from recent policy debates and using extensive examples to consider complex ethical dilemmas Beatley argues that cities must expand the definition of the moral community to include all their citizens Cities must take profound steps to address social injustice and plan for climate change both moral obligations and this approachable and readable introduction to moral philosophy urban planning and social justice will help new generations to grapple with these global issues

Managing Services Mark M. Davis,Janelle N. Heineke,2003

Managing Services is an alternative to the growing service management market in that it is more managerial and procedural placing less emphasis on quantitative tools and more on strategic concerns The benefit of this approach is that it views services from the perspective of the general manager rather than the operations specialist This is important especially considering most students taking this course aspire to and are preparing for managerial positions
