Healthy Aging Trending Ideas:

Research Anthology on Supporting Healthy Aging in a Digital Society Management Association, Information Resources, 2022-02-04 In today's rapidly evolving society there has been an increase in technologies and systems available to support the elderly throughout various aspects of life. We have come a long way in the quality of life we can offer our aging populations in recent years due to these technological innovations, medical advancements, and research initiatives. However, further study of these developments is crucial to ensure they are utilized to their utmost potential in securing a healthier elderly population. The Research Anthology on Supporting Healthy Aging in a Digital Society discusses the current challenges of aging in the modern world as well as recent developments in medicine and technology that can be used to improve the quality of life of elderly citizens. Covering a wide range of topics such as smart homes, remote healthcare, and aging in place, this reference work is ideal for healthcare professionals, gerontologists, therapists, government officials, policymakers, researchers, academicians, practitioners, scholars, instructors, and students.

You Can Kill An Idea, But You Can't Kill An Opportunity Pam Henderson, 2013-10-28 Ideas alone are failing us. They promise growth but too often lead to products and services that don't deliver. In many companies it can take up to 3,000 ideas to lead to 100 projects resulting in only 2 launches producing on average one product that breaks even and of these products only 20% turn a profit. Defining the opportunity first leads to big ideas that win and increases the odds for success. Pam Henderson, former faculty at Carnegie Mellon University and author of You Can Kill an Idea but You Can't Kill An Opportunity, shows how to apply Opportunity Thinking in your own organization to increase speed to market for products, eliminate idea bottlenecks, get crisp on demand, space value, open innovation, and increase creativity ROI. Opportunity Thinking, a new approach to innovation developed by author Pam Henderson, has transformed the way companies and organizations from Fortune 500 to non-profits find big ideas that win and create sustainable growth. Opportunity Thinking is a creative journey that taps six sources: market forces, business models, technology, organizations, environments, and design to discover big places to play. Not your average business book, Henderson's clever narrative, bold visuals, and countless stories of companies and brands will inspire you to think in new ways and stretch your mind to consider the possibilities.

Toward Healthy Aging Priscilla Ebersole, Patricia A. Hess, 1994

World Economic Outlook, April 2025 International Monetary Fund, Research Dept, 2025-04-22 The latest World Economic Outlook reports a slowdown in global growth as downside risks intensify. While policy shifts unfold and uncertainties reach new highs, policies need to be calibrated to rebalance growth, inflation, trade, and rebuild buffers and reinvigorate medium-term growth, thereby reducing both internal and external imbalances. Policies that promote healthy aging, bridge gender disparities, and enhance the alignment of migrants' skills with local labor market demands can play a crucial role in countering slow economic growth and fiscal pressures, especially when coupled with infrastructure investment. The movement of migrants and refugees has become a fixture of public debate. Chapter 3 examines how changes in the stringency of migrant and refugee policies can alter the journeys and legal pathways people choose to take within and between economies. For example, stricter policies can deflect flows of people to new destinations. Those economies can experience short-term challenges from strains on local services but ultimately benefit in the longer term. Costs are likely to be more severe where challenges to integrate newcomers are larger, notably in emerging market and developing economies and where their skills are not well matched with local labor market needs. Benefits can materialize sooner by boosting infrastructure investment and promoting private sector development. International cooperation can also help by more evenly distributing short-term costs across economies.

Global Aging Trends and Education, 1981 Healthy Aging and Longevity
Noah J. Weller, Suresh I. S. Rattan, 2007-11-19

In a climate where many unsubstantiated claims are made, it is essential to have access to the best evidence-based knowledge on how to extend healthy life expectancy. Researchers, healthcare practitioners, and policy makers come together annually at the International Research Center for Healthy Ageing and Longevity to discuss, debate, and exchange ideas, and the proceedings of the most recent conference are contained in the chapters of this volume. Now more than ever, a critical need exists for the development of appropriate policies so that aging is seen as a resource and not as an isolating and segregating experience. Solid research elucidating the processes of aging must be translated into strategies for clinical practice in order to respond to the needs of an aging population. The full spectrum of proven and potential aging interventions including pharmaceutical nutritional clinical educational policy complementary preventive and restorative means were explored at this international meeting The topics covered in this volume include the following 1 Nutritional interventions in aging and age associated disease both diet and supplements 2 dementia in an aging population 3 the new caring financial and asset management and substitute decision making by and for older people 4 how we improve the quality of research into healthy aging 5 promoting balance and preventing falls in an aging population 6 population aging in developing countries 7 promoting health and well being of the older community 8 hormone and metabolic interventions in aging 9 community attitudes and approaches towards human life extension 10 respecting the elders in our care 11 the biology of healthy aging and longevity 12 basic science and mechanisms of aging and longevity 13 sustaining optimal aging inner strength and mutual support 14 wellbeing retirement planning and expectations of the baby boomer generation 15 natural and complementary approaches to age associated disorders 16 psychosocial predictors of healthy aging and longevity lessons from longitudinal studies 17 healthy longevity lessons learned from the world s longest lived people 18 the aging brain 19 baby boomer work force participation 20 quality of care and quality of life for the elderly 21 frontiers of knowledge in biogerontology 22 behavioural and social interventions for healthy aging and longevity NOTE Annals volumes are available for sale as individual books or as a journal For information on institutional journal subscriptions please visit www.blackwellpublishing.com/nyas ACADEMY MEMBERS Please contact the New York Academy of Sciences directly to place your order www.nyas.org Members of the New York Academy of Science receive full text access to the Annals online and discounts on print volumes Please visit www.nyas.org/membership/main.asp for more information about becoming a member
