Since RBAC only provides the alternatives of either granting or denying access more fine grained control of information flows such as granting access to information provided that it will not be disclosed to targets outside our organisation during further processing is not possible In business processes in particular those spanning several organisations which are commonly defined using business process execution language BPEL useful information flows not violating security policy implied limitations would be prevented if only the access control capabilities offered by RBAC are in use The book shows a way of providing more refined methods of information flow control that allow for granting access to information or resources by taking in consideration the former or further information flow in a business process requesting this access The methods proposed are comparatively easy to apply and have been proven to be largely machine executable by a prototypical realisation As an addition the methods are extended to be also applicable to BPEL defined workflows that make use of Grid services or Cloud services IT Security Specialists Chief Information Officers CIOs Chief Security Officers CSOs Security Policy and Quality Assurance Officers and Managers Business Process and Web Grid Cloud Service Designers Developers Operational Managers Interested Learners Students in the Field of Security Management
