The Age of Decentralization Sam Ghosh,Subhasis Gorai,2024-10-15 The Age of Decentralization talks about various decentralization technologies including Web3 decentralized identity and decentralized storage and how they can be incorporated in traditional tech architectures to improve technical and business performance In this book the authors take us on a journey through the tech landscape exploring how decentralized technologies including Web3 are on the verge of becoming mainstream and offer a practical roadmap for understanding and embracing this shift Web2 brought us the great centralization by centralizing not only data but also business processes blurring the industry boundaries So payment platforms started offering e commerce services and ride hailing services started delivering food Scale became the most effective moat But at the same time these huge platforms became a magnet for security threats and started violating user privacy rights and consumer rights The authors argue that the technological regulatory and social landscape is ready for the next evolution of technology systems as decentralization technologies get incorporated into traditional architectures This book serves as a guide for readers to understand the fundamentals of Web3 along with other decentralized technologies and creates a framework for incorporating them into traditional architectures At the same time the authors explore the organization level as well as the macro implications of decentralized technologies Don't Use Your Words! Jane Juffer,2019-05-28 How children are taught to control their feelings and how they resist this emotional management through cultural production Today even young kids talk to each other across social media by referencing memes songs and movements constructing a common vernacular that resists parental educational and media imperatives to name their feelings and thus control their bodies Over the past two decades children s television programming has provided a therapeutic site for the processing of emotions such as anger but in doing so has enforced normative structures of feeling that Jane Juffer argues weaken the intensity and range of children's affective experiences. Don't Use Your Words seeks to challenge those norms highlighting the ways that kids express their feelings through cultural productions including drawings, fan art, memes, YouTube videos, dance moves, and conversations while gaming online. Focusing on kids between ages five and nine, Don't Use Your Words situates these productions in specific contexts including immigration policy referenced in drawings by Central American children just released from detention centers and electoral politics as contested in kids' artwork expressing their anger at Trump's victory. Taking issue with the mainstream tendency to speak on behalf of children, Juffer argues that kids have the agency to answer for themselves what it feels like to be a kid. Extended Reality Lucio Tommaso De Paolis, Pasquale Arpaia, Marco Sacco, 2024-09-10.
