SMART HOME ON A BUDGET Zoenaedy Soenjoto, 2025-10-18 Imagine waking up to your favorite music with lights gradually brightening to simulate sunrise your coffee maker starting automatically and your home already at the perfect temperature This isn't science fiction or exclusive to luxury homes it's achievable today with budget friendly smart devices The smart home revolution has made incredible strides in recent years What once cost thousands of dollars and required professional installation can now be set up for a fraction of the price by anyone willing to spend a weekend learning the basics AI Networking Cookbook Eric Chou, 2026-01-14 Transform your network operations with AI powered automation and learn code generation prompt engineering and practical recipes for building custom network tools using AI assistants and Python Key Features Leverage AI assistants like OpenAI and Claude to build network automation solutions Use prompt engineering and AI tools to automate network setup monitoring and threat detection Build AI assisted network configuration monitoring and management workflows with multi vendor APIs Purchase of the print or Kindle book includes a free PDF eBook Book Description Transform your approach to network automation with the power of AI LLM assistants guided by hands on recipes for building custom automation solutions quickly using artificial intelligence You'll learn tools and techniques such as Vibe coding for conversational development OpenAI API scripts prompt engineering for better outputs local LLM fine tuning combining models with LangChain and Streamlit based frontends development The book progresses from simple Python scripts to advanced AI assisted automation techniques including multi vendor API integration showing you how AI can enhance network configuration monitoring security and troubleshooting Each recipe presents realistic mock data complete code examples and step by step guidance creating a safe environment for experimentation while building a solid foundation for future production use Whether you want to automate routine configuration implement AI driven troubleshooting or build compliance monitoring systems this cookbook helps you connect your networking expertise with the capabilities of modern AI What you will learn Understand the AI LLM landscape and key parameters for networking tasks Create OpenAI enabled scripts for daily network engineering workflows Master prompt engineering techniques for improved AI outputs Build local LLMs using Ollama for network applications Chain language models with LangChain for complex network solutions Develop AI application frontends using the Streamlit framework Design robust backends for network AI applications Build an end to end network copilot by integrating all the techniques you've learned Who this book is for The AI for Networking Cookbook is for experienced network engineers network architects and DevOps professionals who want to enhance their network automation capabilities using AI and LLM technologies. It is especially invaluable for networking professionals looking to integrate conversational AI development, prompt engineering, and modern AI tools like OpenAI APIs, LangChain, and local LLM models into their workflows. Familiarity with basic networking concepts, configurations, and Python is helpful but no prior AI or advanced programming experience is required. Routing in the Internet Using Partial Link State Information by Marcelo Spohn, 2001. This thesis focuses on routing in wired and wireless segments of the Internet using partial link state information. Although efficient algorithms have been proposed based on both link state and distance vector information, link state routing is more efficient than distance vector routing when constraints are placed on the paths offered to destinations, which is the case for QoS routing, offering paths with required delay, bandwidth, reliability, cost, or other parameters. We present a new link state routing protocol for wired internetworks called ALP (adaptive link state protocol). In ALP, a router sends updates to its neighbors regarding the links in its preferred paths to destinations. Each router decides which links to report to its neighbors based on its local computation of preferred paths. A router running ALP does not ask its neighbors to delete links; instead, a router simply updates its neighbors with the most recent information about those links it decides to take out of its preferred paths. We introduce and analyze two routing algorithms for wireless networks: the source tree adaptive routing (STAR) protocol and the neighborhood aware source routing (NSR) protocol. STAR is the first example of a table-driven routing protocol that is more efficient than prior table-driven and on-demand routing protocols by exploiting link state information to allow paths taken to destinations to deviate from the optimum in order to save bandwidth without creating loops. NSR is an on-demand routing protocol based on partial topology information and source routing. STAR is shown to be more efficient than the dynamic source routing (DSR) protocol in small ad hoc networks, and NSR is shown to outperform STAR and DSR in large wireless networks with mobile nodes. Teach Yourself Visually Wireless Networking by Todd W. Carter and Paul Whitehead, 2004. Provides instruction on setting up, installing, configuring, administering, securing, and troubleshooting wireless networks. Also provides instruction on creating computer-to-computer networks connecting on the road and with wireless devices and improving network performance.
