Business Week, 2010 The Human Side of Cyber Conflict Panayotis A. Yannakogeorgos, John P. Geis (II), 2016 In response to a tasking from the Air Force chief of staff the Air Force Research Institute conducted a review of how the service organizes, educates, trains and equips its cyber workforce. The resulting findings were used to develop recommendations for how the Air Force should recruit, educate, train and develop cyber operators from the time they are potential accessions until they become senior leaders in the enlisted and officer corps. This study's discoveries, analyses and recommendations are aimed at guiding staff officers and senior leaders alike as they consider how to develop a future cyber workforce that supports both Air Force and US Cyber Command missions across the range of military operations. Business Week, 2007-03 Social Movements and New Technology Victoria Carty, 2018-09-03 The emergence of new communication technologies such as the Internet and social media networking sites and platforms has strongly affected social movement activism. In this compelling and timely book Victoria Carty examines these movements and their uses of digital technologies within the context of social movement theory and history. With an accessible and unique mix of theory and real world examples, Social Movements and New Technology takes readers on a tour through MoveOn and Tea Party e-mail campaigns, the hacktivist tactics of Anonymous, global online protests against rapists and rape culture, and the tweets and Facebook pages that accompanied uprisings across the Arab world, Europe and the United States. In each case study the reader is invited to examine the movement organization or protest and their use of digital tools through the lens of social movement theory. Discussion questions at the end of each chapter invite critical thinking, further reflection and debate.
