Microbial Removal and Integrity Monitoring of High-Pressure Membranes J. Lozier, M. Kitis, C. Colvin, J. Kim, B. Mi, B. Marinas, 2004-01-01 High pressure HP membranes reverse osmosis and nanofiltration are used increasingly to treat brackish and organic laden surface waters as water purveyors are forced to utilize lower quality source waters to meet potable water demands. In addition reverse osmosis has become an integral part of the advanced reclamation process for the indirect potable reuse of domestic wastewaters. In these applications HP membranes are expected to serve as a positive barrier to pathogens. To date integrity methods for full scale HP membrane systems have been limited to conductivity and total organic carbon monitoring approaches that can only assess pathogen removals to two logs 99%. The first objective of this research was to determine the integrity of RO and NF membrane systems with respect to viral passage using both particulate MS2 viruses and fluorescent microspheres and soluble Rhodamine WT surrogates. The second objective was to compare the capability of these surrogates for use in assessing integrity of intact and compromised RO and NF membranes when evaluated in a number of configurations. IABS Symposium on Reduction of Animal Usage in the Development and Control of Biological Products, 1986 The Naga Challenged Victor R. Savage, May Tan-Mullins, 2005 This book is a sequel to The Naga Awakens: Growth and Change in Southeast Asia published in 1997. While the 1997 book looked at the positive developments in the region this book addresses the political, economic and cultural issues arising from the 1997-98 Asian economic crisis. Six years since the crisis the region has been plagued by other issues such as the haze, SARS, avian influenza and terrorism. The global political and economic landscape has also changed radically after the 9/11 attack and the Iraq war. Unfortunately after the fall of Suharto in 1998 the ASEAN lost its leadership and the organization floundered without much regional coherence. All these global and regional events have affected the developmental trajectories and political developments of states in the region. Economically Southeast Asia has been overshadowed by the dynamic economic prowess of China and India in the last five years and there have been serious reservations by Southeast Asian political leaders.
