Uber In The Us Returns:

Diminishing Returns Lucio Baccaro, Mark Blyth, Jonas Pontusson, 2022 A set of state of the art empirical analyses at the country regional and global level that work from a new theoretical framework that analyzes the politics of growth and stagnation As highlighted by the recent debate on secular stagnation economic growth has slowed down considerably and this has given rise to a host of new problems from financial instability to the collapse of mainstream parties What happens when growth the main mechanism of capitalist legitimation is harder to come by and less broadly shared And how should we think about capitalist diversity in the context of global stagnation In Diminishing Returns Lucio Baccaro Mark Blyth and Jonas Pontusson address these questions by bringing together a number of comparative and international political economists with expertise across many different countries and regions Going beyond the methodological nationalism common in most comparative research each author departs from a common theoretical framework the Growth Model Perspective and contributes to develop it further The outcome is a new theoretical framework to help social scientists policymakers and opinion makers understand the politics of growth and stagnation which offers state of the art empirical analyses at the country regional and global level

Road to Nowhere Paris Marx, 2022-07-05 Elon Musk and the masters of Silicon Valley want us to believe technology can revolutionize our cities and means of transport Road to Nowhere exposes the paucity of their vision a distracting fantasy that will only delay the collective solutions already known to be effective Technological responses to social problems and the people behind these barren ideas must be challenged if our cities and transportation systems are to serve the public good Paris Marx offers a plan for an innovative transportation system to meet the needs of the poor the marginalized and the vulnerable as well as those of everybody else Road to Nowhere argues that rethinking transport could be the first step in a broader reimagining of our social economic and political systems which ought to be structured around the many not the few
