Talent Development in European Higher Education Dr. Marca V.C. Wolfensberger,2015-02-10 This book examines the much debated question of how to unleash the potential of young people with promising intellectual abilities and motivation It looks at the increasingly important topic of excellence in education and the shift in focus towards the provision of programs to support talented students in higher education It provides a systematic overview of programs for talented students at northern European higher education institutions HEIs Starting in the Netherlands where nearly all HEIs have developed honors programs over the past two decades the book explores three clusters of countries the Benelux the Nordic and the German speaking countries For each of these countries it discusses the local culture towards excellence the structure of the education system and the presence of honors programs In total the book reviews the special talent provisions for nearly four million students at 303 higher education institutions in eleven countries In addition it offers an analysis of the reasons to develop such programs a look into the future of honors education and a practical list of suggestions for further research The Sirius Program assigned Marca Wolfensberger to carry out this research Standard Setting in Education Sigrid

Blömeke,Jan-Eric Gustafsson,2017-02-27 This book summarizes the international evidence on methodological issues in standard setting in education By critically discussing the standard setting practices implemented in the Nordic countries and by presenting new methodological approaches it offers fresh perspectives on the current research Standard setting targets crucial societal objectives by defining educational benchmarks at different achievement levels and provides feedback to policy makers schools and teachers about the strengths and weaknesses of a school system Given that the consequences of standard setting can be dramatic the quality of standard setting is a prime concern If it fails repercussions can be expected in terms of arbitrary evaluations of educational policy wrong turns in school or teacher development or misplacement of individual students Standard setting therefore needs to be accurate reliable valid useful and defensible However specific evidence on the benefits and limits of different approaches to standard setting is rare and scattered and there is a particular lack with respect to standard setting in the Nordic countries where the number of national tests is increasing and there are concerns about the time and effort spent on testing at schools without feedback being provided Addressing this gap the book offers a discussion on standard setting by respected experts as well as profound and innovative insights into fundamental aspects of standard setting including conclusions for future methodological and policy related research
